RICHMOND, VA

Moving forward is one of the givens in life. Growth, ideas, moves to new locations, new friends, jobs and occupations, — these are all things that create a stimulating life of opportunities. The Cavalier family is no stranger to this philosophy, as we struggle to move forward toward new horizons. Though students often agree that the school year seems, sometimes, to drag along at a snail's pace, our best (movement) rapidly quickens as we progress through semester exams of the academic and business related courses toward that final culminating activity, graduation.

Cavalier movement has been evidenced across the city, the state and the country as we excelled in athletics, academics and school spirit. Our strides could be noted in the classroom, on the playing fields, on television, in the cafeteria, in the band room, in the art room, in the auditorium, and even in the nurse's office, as we unselfishly donated blood for our annual blood drive.

CAVALIERS ARE ON THE MOVE

Moving defensively, students in Mrs. Lawrence's drivers' education class concentrate on skills needed to drive defensively.

Moving Moving Moving Moving

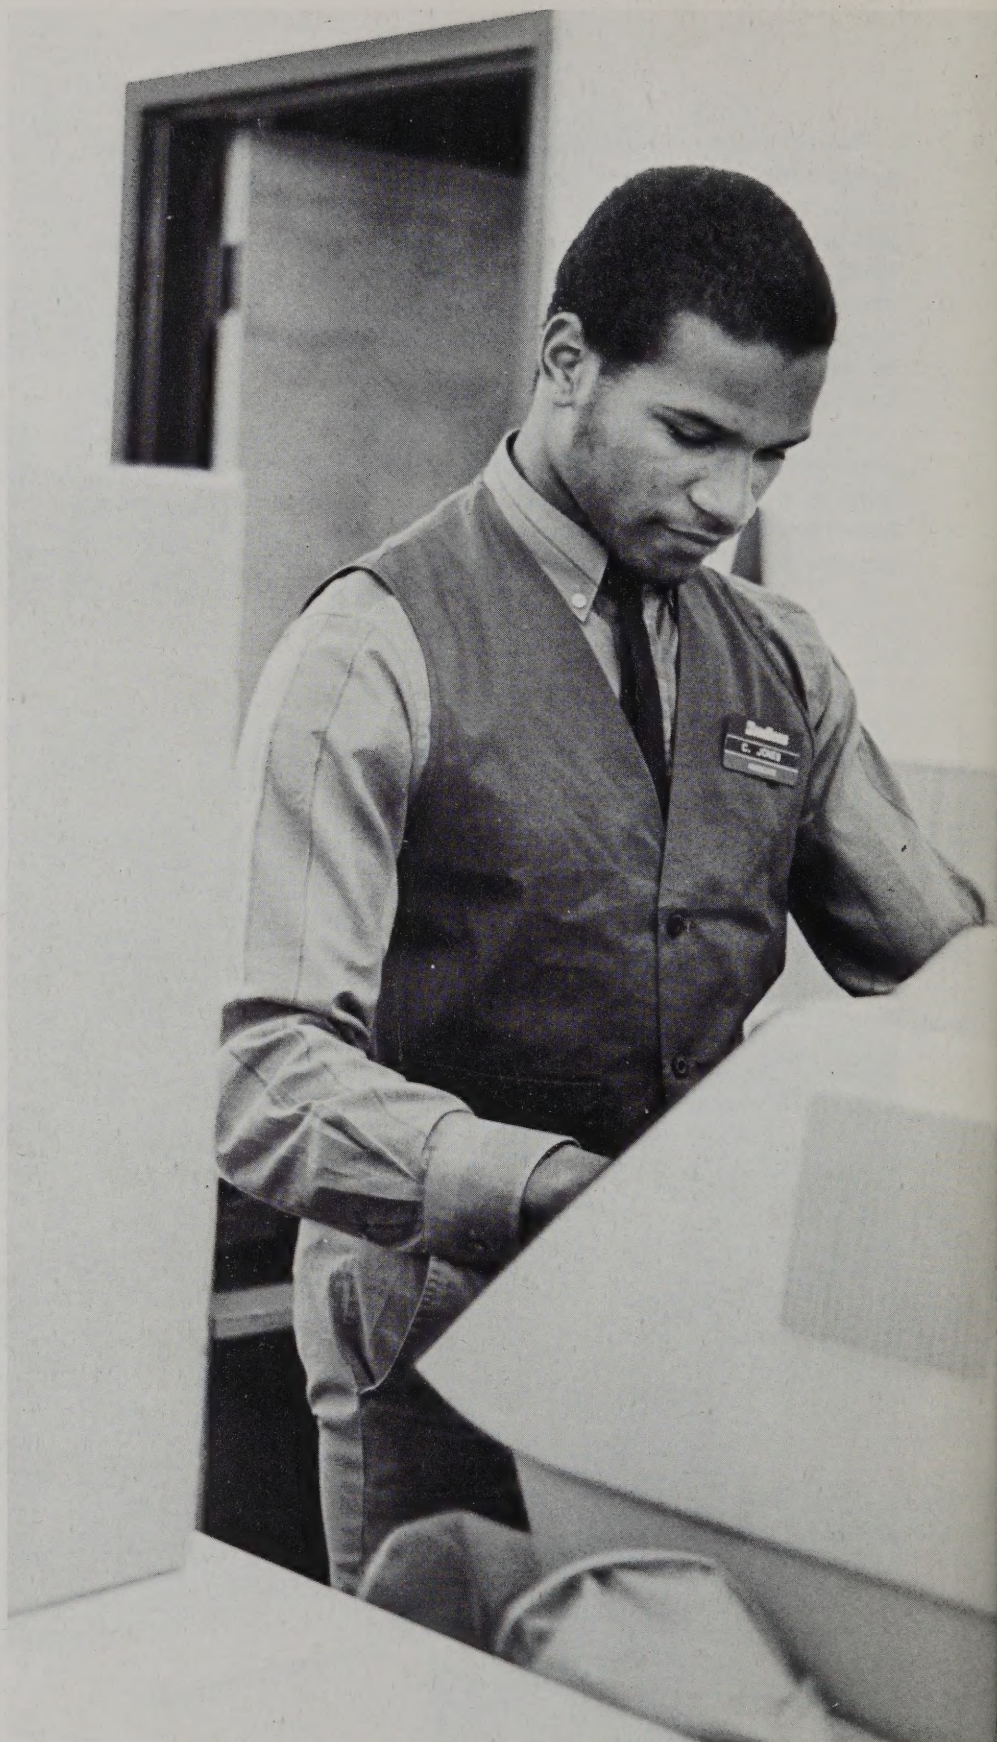

In the classroom, in the hallway, in the office, on the job — the Cavalier family is constantly moving toward self-improvement. In addition to diligent classroom study, many Cavaliers hold jobs in the working world.

From slinging hamburgers at McDonald's and Wendy's, to cashiering at K-Mart; from stocking shelves, at Thalhimers to pumping gas at Exxon — the students at Marshall-Walker hold a multitude of responsible positions, preparing to meet the challenges of the working world of tomorrow.

Cavaliers are constantly on the move!

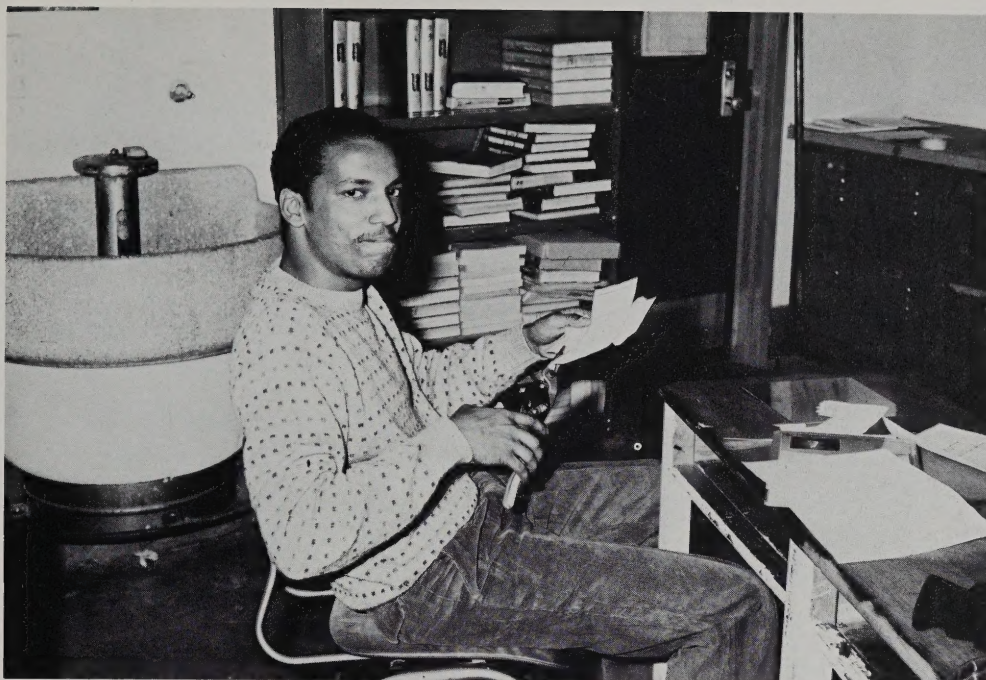

Hands up! Alice Thompson lines up a copy of the flag as she decorates the FHA bulletin board during Vocational Education Week.

Hands out of sight! Craig Jones, on the job at Bradlees Department Store, keys in a sale in the lay-away department. Craig receives this training as a part of the DECA program.

Hands ready. Ulysses Hill completes project in his metal works class.

MOVING TO THE BELL

Fired up and ready to go, the Cavalier family began making strides on the very first day of school, filled with zeal and anticipation of the upcoming school year. When the first bell sounded to signal the opening of school for the new school year 1984-85, the Cavaliers were ready to begin making strides, ever conscious of the magic of movement.

MOVING TO THE BEAT, TO THE BEAT!

Cavaliers move to the beat of school spirit. Top left: Mike Cole and Sarah McLeod move to a musical beat in orchestra. Top right: Tracy Mayo completes FBLA Valentine project. Bottom right: Administrators begin another school day: Dr. Iris Metts, Mr. Roger LaCourse and Mr. Howard Hopkins. Opposite page — top: Ms. Wanda Nutall, Dr. Metts' personal secretary, smiles brightly as her fingers move to the beat of her typewriter. Bottom left: Clarence Washington prepares for an FBLA project. Bottom right: Mrs. Jackie Tunstall pauses as she moves to the cafeteria.

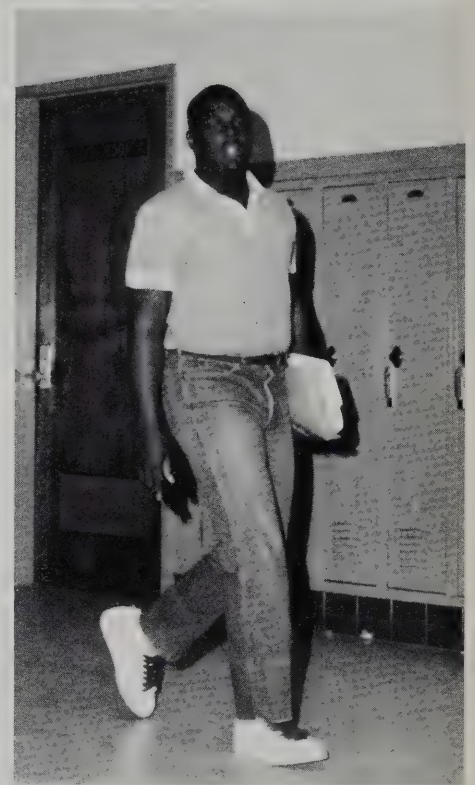

Moving on the Inside

At the sound of the bell, feet start moving, doors open, lockers open, greetings are exchanged as Cavaliers move to their various destinations.

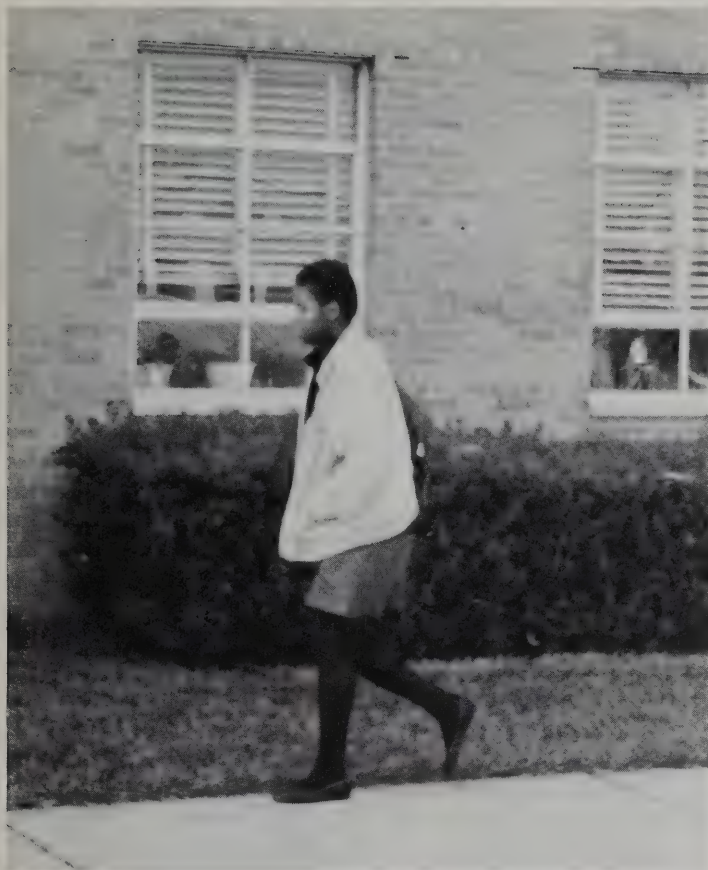

Whether impaired or mobile, Cavaliers are on the move — inside and ready to work. There is no time for tardiness because punctual students are rewarded by the attendance committee.

Moving — on the Outside

Students at Marshall-Walker arrive at school by using various methods of transportation. Many Cavaliers walk to school, while others ride mopads, and bicycles. Still others ride the school bus “the cheese” or the city bus. Many CAVS drive their own cars.

Keeping punctuality first and foremost on their minds, Cavaliers are on the move!

Opposite page — top: Steve Horne and Vincent D. Gosha take a short cut through the courtyard. Bottom left: Michael Glover secures his bicycle before moving to homeroom. Bottom right: Theresa Phillips race to beat the tardy bell. Top left: Priscilla White receives help from, the wind as she moves to her first period class. Top right: Students rush to their buses on a rainy afternoon. Bottom left: Stape White arrives on time and is ready for the day's activities.

Moving in All Directions

Concentration is the key as Mary Wilson completes her art project.

Goggles up! Gordon Robinson prefers to use his eyes rather than his goggles.

Timber! George Bell, Jock Brown, Jay Stevenson and Marvin McCoy cut slits of wood for their wood work projects in Mr. Fitchett's class.

Ready to sew. Jackie Wood assigns machines by way of name tags.

Cavaliers move to the beat of their typewriters.

Classes

"At the end there is always a beginning." This was the motto chosen for the Class of '85. The seniors felt that at the end of their secondary education, they would begin a new life. It would be the beginning of their futures as young adults entering a world of new challenges.

As the Class of '85 made plans for the coming year, among them was the possibility of having their commencement at the Mosque. Thanks to the hard work of their parents and the determination of the members of the Senior Class, That dream became reality.

Another one of the goals of the Class of '85 was to have a greater participation in paying class dues. An estimated 90% of the Senior Class paid their class dues in full and on time.

Other plans for the class were to hold the annual class picnic and the Senior Prom. The Senior Prom was held at the Holiday Inn 3200.

In a special program the Senior Class thanked the teachers, sponsors, and administrators for supporting them during the high school years and especially during their senior year.

HOMECOMING QUEEN

Miss Cavalier

Karen Williams

HER COURT

First Runner-Up

Renee Smith

The Miss Cavalier pageant is an annual event designed to seek the "ultimate" Lady Cavalier. Not to be taken lightly, Miss Cavalier represents the Marshall-Walker High School with dignity and honor. She is the queen of the Cavalier family.

The theme of this year's pageant was "The Wish of a Star." Each contestant had her own special reasons for competing. Karen Williams, selected Miss Cavalier, ran because she felt that she possessed those qualities that make Miss Cavalier special. "I feel I can represent Marshall-Walker in a lady-like manner," Miss Williams added.

The first runner-up, Renee

Smith, is considered one of the most spirited young ladies of the Cavalier family. "I feel that it is an honor to represent Marshall-Walker in as many positive fashions as possible. Being crowned would be a thrilling climax of my four years as a student at Marshall-Walker."

According to Kim Harris, second runner-up, she ran ... "because I enjoy the thrill of competition and displaying my talents. It also gave me a chance to put my best foot forward and to develop my leadership abilities."

Andrea Crump, another contestant, stated, "I feel all students should have the experience of playing role models for others."

Aleta Fonville felt that being a contestant provided her the opportunity to show the talent and potential that she has. "I also feel that I am capable in all respects of representing Marshall-Walker."

Patricia Hatch, a young lady with the potential and qualities of a Miss Cavalier, recounted, "I am seeking the crown of Miss Cavalier because I feel that it is more than an honor to represent such a school as Marshall-Walker. The nobility exemplified by bearing the name of Miss Cavalier is what I admire about this great event."

Homecoming Friday — Filled With Spirit!

Taking a breather from the spirit being displayed in the gym, faculty members John Thompson, Louis Anderson, Linberg Rollins and Michael Brooks get a breath of cool air outside of the gym.

Moving through the crowd, Senior Wendy Brunson, maneuvers through the crowded pep rally to the sidelines as she proudly displays her school spirit proclaiming "Cavaliers are No. 1."

Cavs are rockin' steady! Moving to the beat of the marching band, Cavaliers are in rare spirit! Move on CAVALIERS!

Keep on movin', Cavs! Dressed in school colors, Howard Hopkins, athletics director, shouts encouragement to the spirited cheerleaders, as Darlene Nunnery, associate athletics director, assists him.

ington, Secretary; Angela Mitchell, Treasurer; Michael Coles, Parliamentarian. Bridgett Pitts is also Miss Junior.

THE MEMBERS CLASS OF '86 are really on the move as they are determined to make this class the best graduating class ever to leave Marshall-Walker. With the leaders they have chosen this ambition should be a reachable one. Having attained high SAT scores, these Cavaliers plan to move in further.

SOPHOMORES

Mark Lomax, safety for the junior varsity football team, assumes his academic role as he gathers information for a class assignment.

Sophomores, often referred to as the in-betweens, since they are not new Cavaliers (freshmen) or seasoned Cavaliers (juniors) seem to be making their mark at Marshall-Walker.

They participate actively in sports, choir, band and many other activities.

The Sophomores have already decided that the Class of '87 will be a class to remember.

CLASS OF '87 — MOVING

Moving to the beat of the Cavalier Marching band, members of the "Class of '87" display their spirit poster.

Donned in Marshall-Walker sweat shirts and hats, Cavaliers show school spirit as other Cavaliers dressed in their favorite colors, blue, green and white, wave pom poms.

Sophomores, not only exhibit school spirit at pep rallies, but their fervor pervades throughout their academic and social activities.

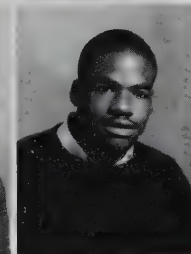

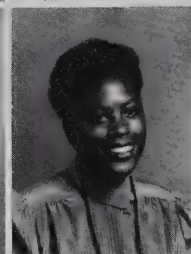

With shoes on made for movement, Deidre Taylor and Julius Gaiters gather the necessary materials for their next class.

Moving to the beat of the band, members of the "Class of '87" exhibit true Cavalier spirit at pep rally before the homecoming game.

FRESHMEN

First! Initial! Novice! Lacking experience! These are the words that come to mind when one thinks of a FRESHMAN, but the latest class to enter Marshall-Walker High School goes far beyond these dictionary synonyms.

Bright and eager to become active members of the M-W family, this class exemplifies a fresh spirit. The good times and new experiences that they encounter will help them as they grow toward becoming spectacular seniors, moving right along in the Cavalier tradition.

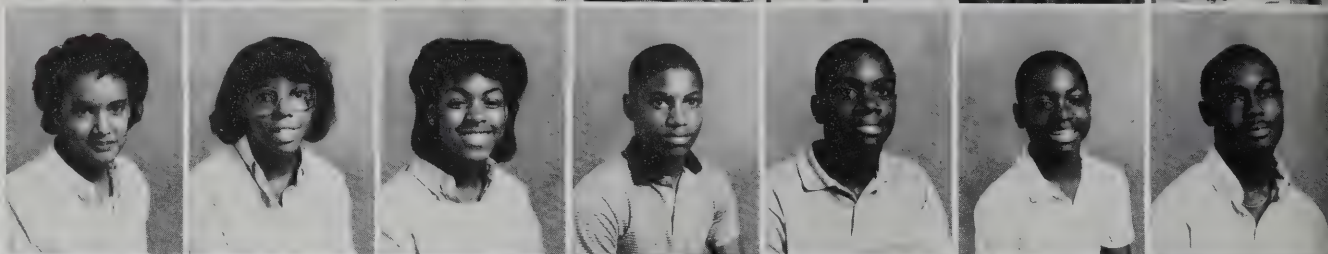

Frivolous Fern Feels Fresh. Charmaine Jenkins, Miss Freshman, smiles freely as a hanging fern tickles her shoulder while she thumbs through a magazine in the library.

Teachers Motivate, Students Perform

The members of the Cavalier faculty plan ahead to devise methods and strategies to make learning a meaningful experience for the students.

Latent talents and abilities are brought to the surface and students' best potentials are recognized and developed.

Cavaliers are on the move!

The way to go! Kim Nichols and Crystal Dickens's attention is captivated as Mrs. Lillian Carter, CA instructor, explains the assignment.

Thanks a million. Varsity football player, Calvin Willis, accepts congratulations for a good season from Mr. Stevens.

A Thought to Remember

"If you work for an Institution, in heaven's name, WORK for it. If the Institution pays you wages which supply your bread and butter, work for it; speak well of it; stand by it and stand by the principles It represents. If put to a pinch, an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness. If you must vilify, condemn and eternally disparage — resign your position, and when you are outside, damn to your heart's content, but as long as you are part of the institution do not condemn it.

If you do that, you are loosening the tendrils that are holding you to the institution, and at the first high wind that comes along, you will be uprooted and blown away and probably will never know the reason why."

Education is a life-long process that has its purpose the optimum development of every individual; and thus, is a joint undertaking by home, school, church and the entire community. Although the success of our educational program depends upon the full cooperation of each of these institutions cooperation between school and home is deemed to be paramount.

The purpose of the high school is to provide the institution and the experiences necessary to assist each student to attain his goals and the opportunities to expand his knowledge and understanding.

We are dedicated to a oneness of purpose that transcends any racial, ethnic, religious or economic differences. Together we strive to foster intellectual growth and to develop each student's potential. We view our school as an institution that, revolving around a basic core of requirements responds to the changing times, as well as to the diverse needs and desires to students, parents and community.

Our goal is to guide our students toward careers in which they may derive benefit and satisfaction, and thus, render service to the community of which they are a part.

A timely decision seems to be taking place as Dr. Metts assists senior, Cynthia Ware, as time marches on.

With a winning smile, Dr. Metts smiles proudly as Ms. Nunnery and Mr. Stevens admire one of our many sports trophies.

Dr. Metts smiles knowingly as she shares a joke with Asst. Supt. of Sec. Ed., Dr. Claude Perkins, and lawyer, Bessida White.

Rehearsing her lines, Dr. Metts reviews her notes as she prepares to introduce guest speaker, Rev. John Johnson, at the senior installation ceremony.

Outlook for 1985

"I approached this school year full of confidence that this graduating class would insure an exciting and successful year. We had a lot going for us: new programs, computer labs, positive outlooks, and most important, you, the Class of '85.

Mid-way through the year, still full of enthusiasm, improved attendance, even greater participation (Our Senior Administration was one of the best I have experienced.), we are rapidly approaching your "moment of truth" commencement.

I am certain that all of you will face the future with confidence, and many of you will be entered into your school's "Roster of Heroes".

Thank you for making me a part of your year."

Roger L. LaCourse

At Marshall-Walker, one of our major goals is to give an adequate education to each of the students and to establish an environment between the student and staff that will allow each to benefit from experiences shared together.

After you have moved forward in your vocation and have become a responsible citizen, I hope this yearbook will be a valuable aid to you as you reminisce about your days and experiences at Marshall-Walker. The staff and I will surely remember you, and are proud to have an opportunity to share the 1984-85 school year with you as a member of the Marshall-Walker family.

Sincerely,
John C. Lane

GUIDANCE

The objectives of the counselors who comprise the Marshall-Walker Guidance Department focus particularly on assisting students to achieve to the level of their potential.

The counselors are committed to spend at least 60% of their time in individual and group counseling activities designed to help students know and use their strengths to their advantage. Guidance seminars and workshops to aid in decision making, career and college planning, positive self-image building and developing good study skills involving students and staff will be the themes of the activities.

Counselors are available to students and their parents as special needs and concerns arise to make the educational experience as rewarding as possible.

FACULTY

The faculty members at Marshall-Walker are on the move doing whatever is necessary to reach the goal of Unparalleled Achievement. The key to Unparalleled Achievement is improved study habits.

The faculty members feel that with the cooperation of the parents our goal is reachable. We have a special attendance committee whose members volunteer their services to check on our students' attendance. With this type of cooperation we will be able to reach our goal of Unparalleled Achievement. Cavaliers are on the move!

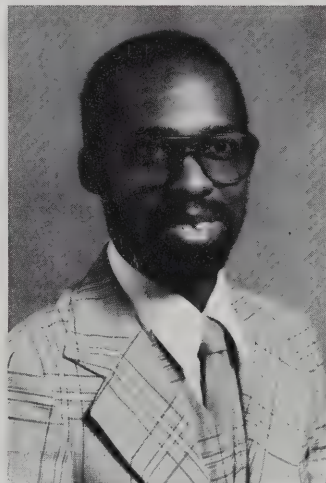

Welcoming back. After having given birth to her fifth son, Mrs. Rhonda Arjona is welcomed back to school by Ronald Abernathy.

Three heads are better than one. While Richard McCutchen works independently, James Long, Michael Carter and Kevin Preston share a textbook as they complete their English assignment.

Individual attention: Senior Lab teacher, Chloe Williams, gives specific attention to student, James Williams, as he corrects his errors on a written composition.

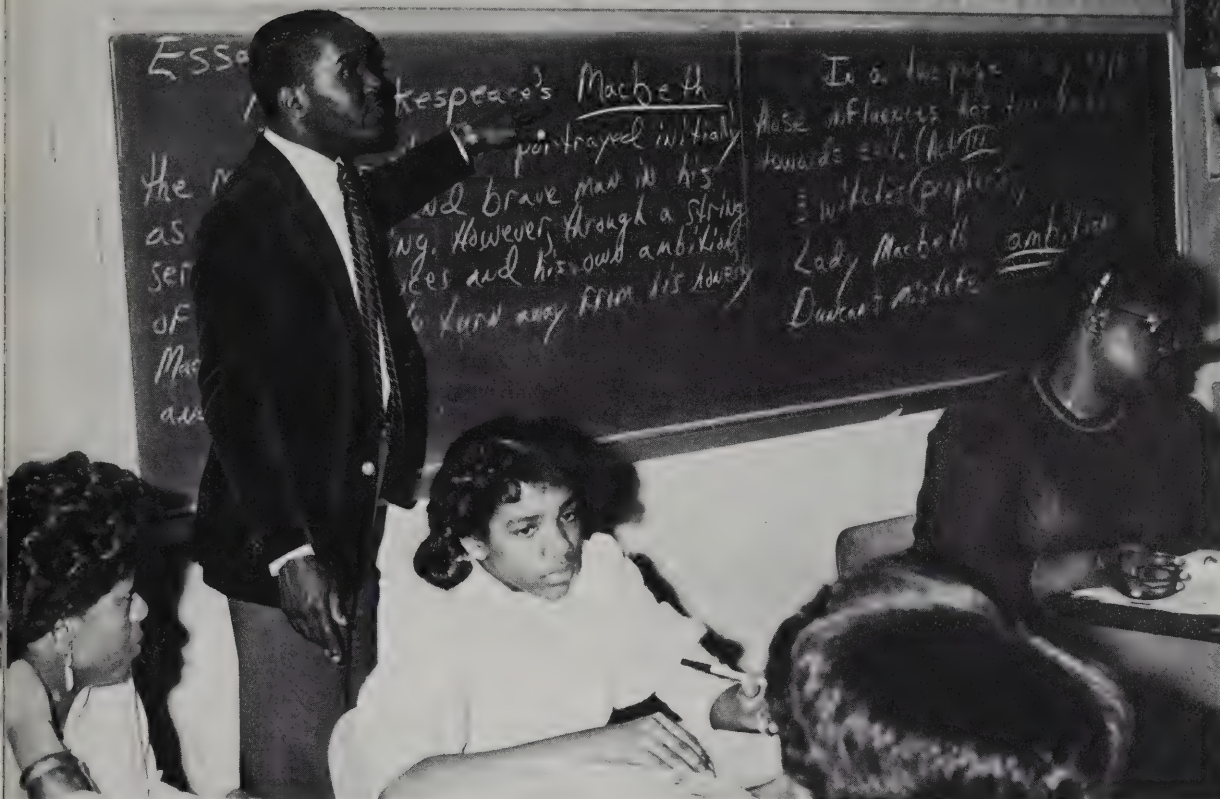

Read and learn. Senior English Teacher, Mr. Brooks, attempts to instill the motto on his bulletin board as his students contemplate, read and learn.

Tongue in cheek. Monica Smith takes a break to contemplate the assignment while Lisa Mosely continues working.

Time out. Mrs. Liggins-Bennett pauses from her lecture to pose prettily for the cameraman.

READ AND LEARN!

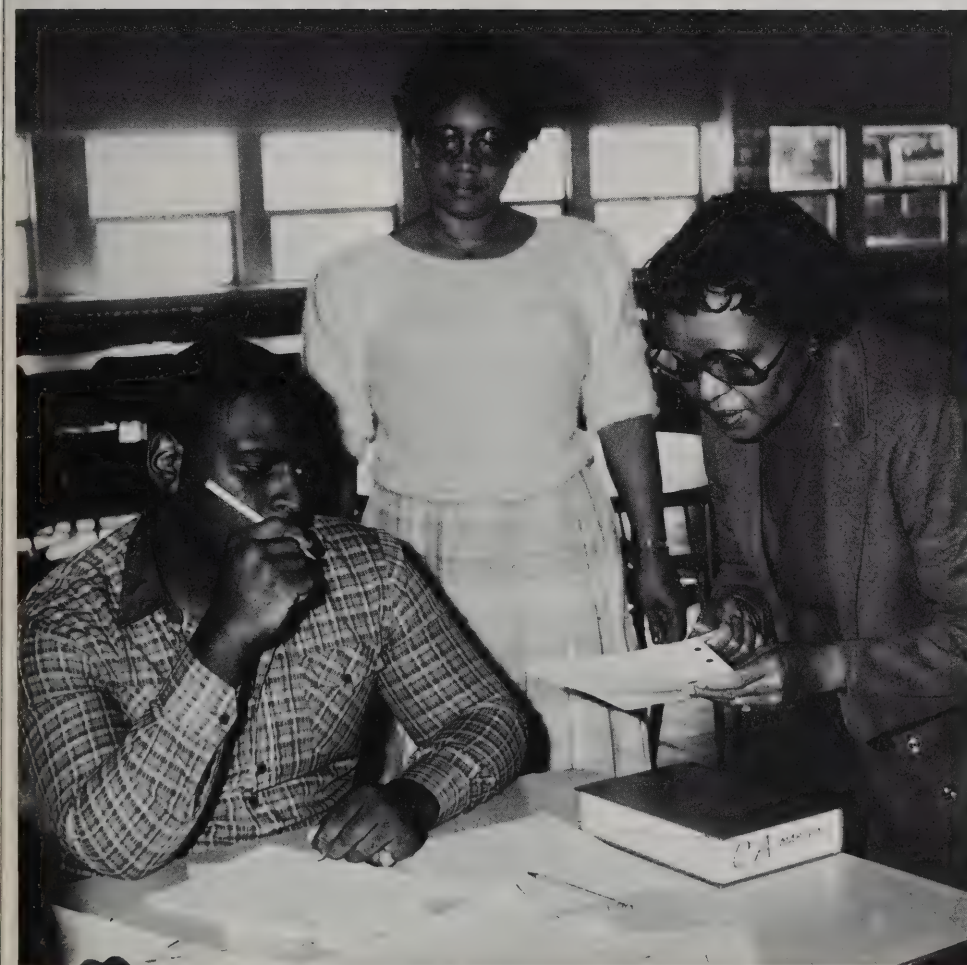

COMMUNICATIVE ARTS

The Communicative Arts Department of Marshall-Walker High School adheres to the philosophy and objectives of the school. The department strives to help each student to develop skills in the areas of reading, writing, speaking, and listening. The department places great emphasis upon the development of each communication skill.

In order to further enhance the student's learning, the program is designed to provide CA English classes and CA reading classes for those students who are reading below the eighth grade levels in grades ten through twelve.

THE ART OF COMMUNICATING. Mrs. Juanita Coles, Communicative Arts Department Head, looks on as Mrs. Francis Bishop, retired Math teacher, helps administer the senior competency make-up to senior, Clifton Williams.

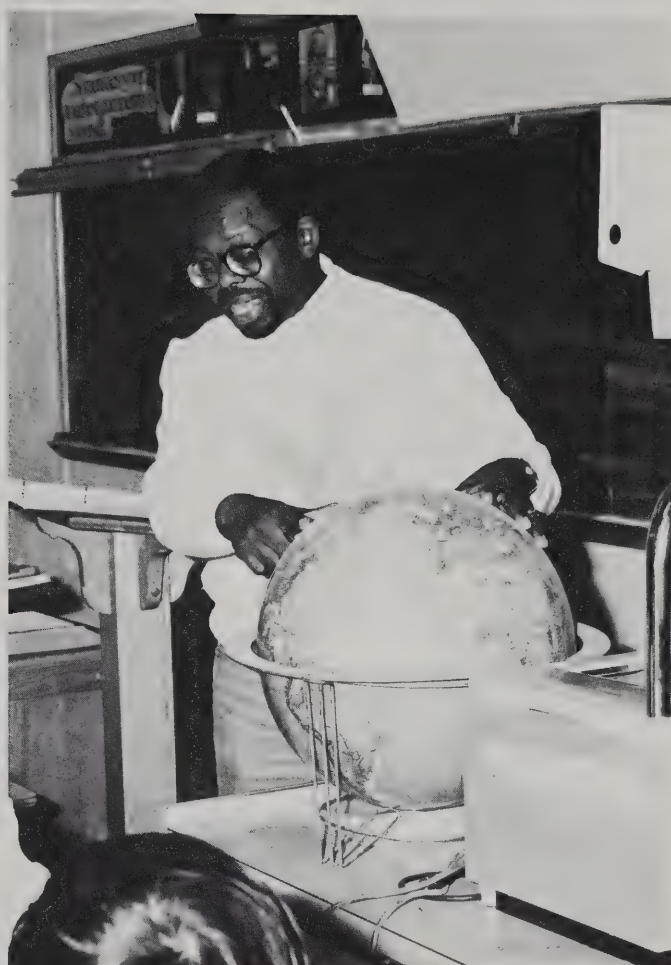

HISTORY

The multiplicity and rapidity of change in our society and the ensuing impact on our daily lives has placed social studies in the forefront of the struggle to ease the tensions engendered by this modern phenomenon. The social studies department of Marshall-Walker High School accepts this responsibility and has developed a wide range of skills which is a vital component on its program. The department feels that the social studies skills of critical thinking, locating, gathering, organizing and evaluating information, and developing competence in group participation and human relations will more adequately prepare students to act purposefully and positively while participating in the inevitable changes of a modern world.

Blind success. Marvin McCoy and Herman Coley work in the pleated light of the sunshine.

SCIENCE

The Science department offers a curriculum organized in accordance with the development of the child, one of which provides his present and his projected future needs. Each pupil is encouraged to strive for maximum achievement according to his ability.

Want to dance? Arnetta Blair appears to be requesting a dance as Mrs. Barbara Tinsley adjusts the head of the class's skeleton.

Plants-A-Plenty. Michael Turner waters a variety of plants in his science class.

Wet resistance. Yashima Pitchford, Shawn Mealy (partially hidden), Michael Cox, Mrs. Ferguson, instructor; Fonda Wright, Sharone McCall and George Taylor investigate the causes of waves in the ocean.

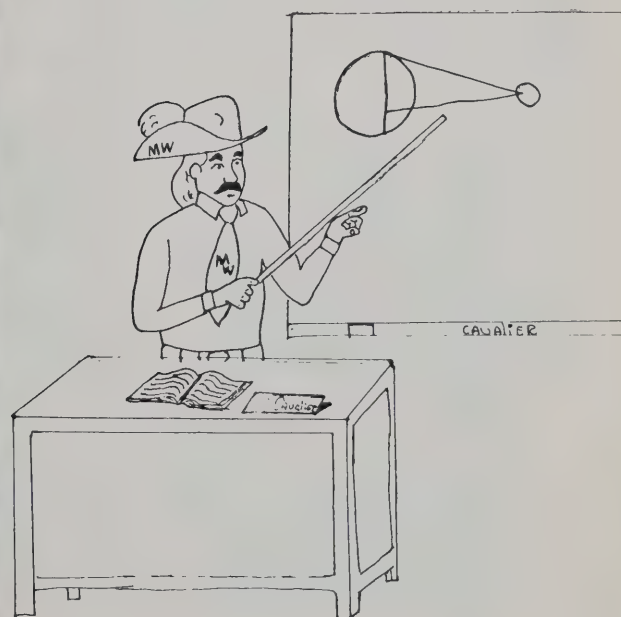

Peeping Tom. A replica of the human body appears to be peeping over the shoulder of Mrs. Coral Bolden as she passes around representative animals for different animal phyla. Seated are Kendall Clark, Stafford Shaw, and Sharmaine Collins.

Smelly samples. Yvette Ohree observes preserved organisms.

MATHEMATICS

The Mathematics Department provides a broad spectrum of course offerings for the members of the Marshall-Walker student body. The program in mathematics has been designed around three major themes: (1) the remediation of deficiencies, (2) the building and strengthening of skills in the fundamental numerical manipulations, and (3) the provision of opportunities for students to find full expression of their mathematical interests, consistent with abilities and needs, through highly specialized and structured classes.

Algebraic madness. Valerie Waller and Keith Willingham attempt to solve their assigned problem as Math teacher, Mrs. Helen Brown, assists.

Over head Trigonometry. Mrs. Janece Bibby uses the overhead projector as an instructional aid in teaching trigonometry.

Math conference. Math students Dwayne Allen, Alexis Terry, Monica Staves, Paula Shelman and Calvin Willis confer about a math problem.

Geometric confusion. Loraine McCoy and Jeffery Hudson complete their assignments while Maretha Robinson appears to be a bit puzzled.

THE PLATO LABS AT JOHN MARSHALL

The PLATO system is the most recent addition to the Computer Based Education program of Richmond Public Schools. PLATO, "the Master Tutor," contains lessons which complement many of the school's established instructional programs, including algebra, biology, English, reading and American history.

In addition, PLATO has a wealth of material in many areas not currently taught at John Marshall. From computer programming in Pascal, COBOL, and FORTRAN to a college-level curriculum in engineering, PLATO's offerings are a tremendous enhancement to our curriculum.

With approximately 1000 students rostered into the system, it's not surprising that almost all 16 terminals in each of Marshall's two PLATO labs are constantly in use during classes, lunches and after school every day.

Computer math. Michelle Pittman uses the computer to solve her math problems.

FINE ARTS

The main goals of foreign language teachers are to help students acquire proficiency in the target language and to help them develop a tolerance for an appreciation of foreign cultures. In art, students develop an appreciation for the aesthetic beautification of the environment by designing and producing various art forms. For the musically inclined, instruction and practice are geared to improve either vocal or instrumental performance.

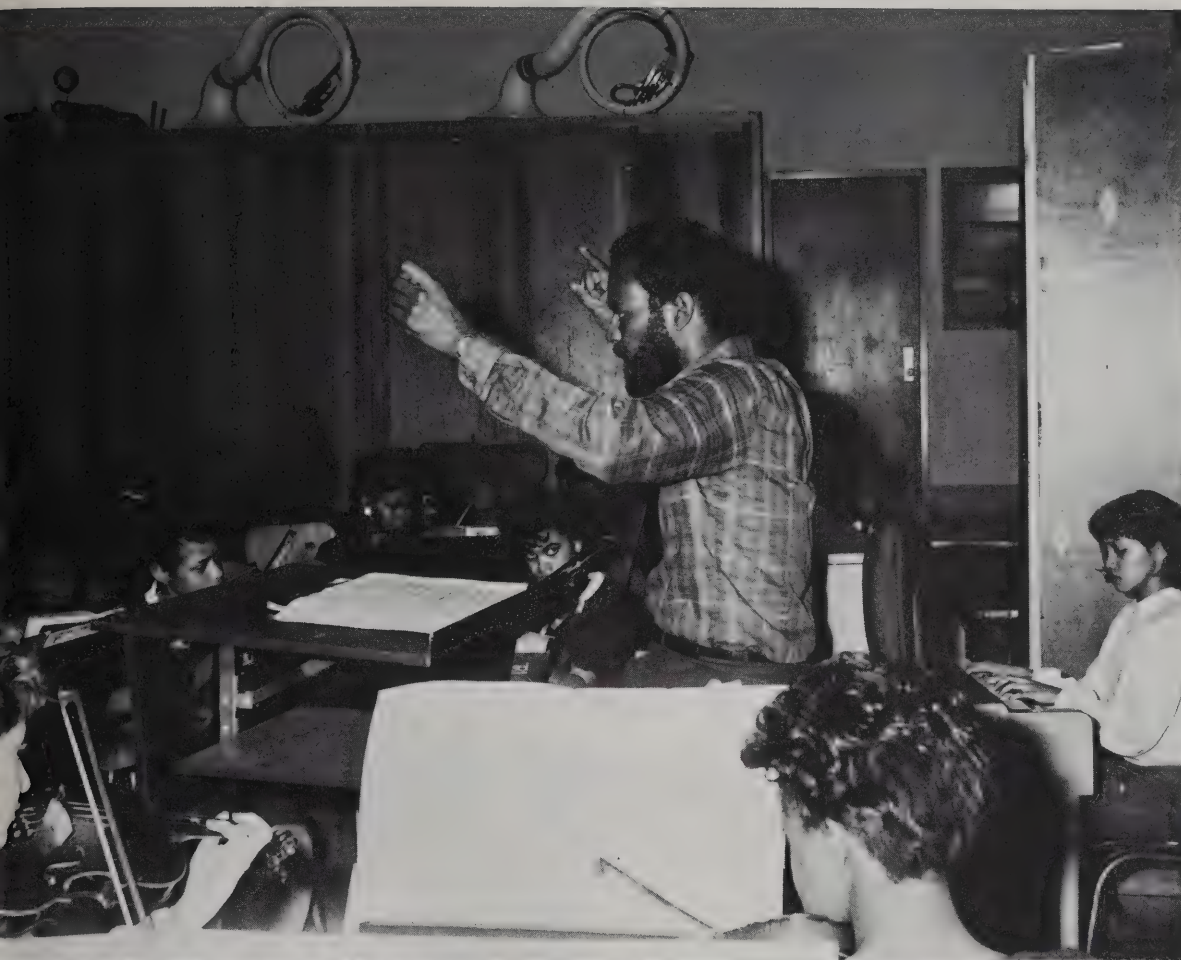

In dotted concentration. Aleta Fonville concentrates on her sheet music as she practices her violin.

Piano perfection. Restiani Sutarno fingers the piano while Traci Edwards and Sharon Oliver accompany her.

In cross-bowed concentration. Connie Bibbs intently eyes her music as the orchestra readies itself to play.

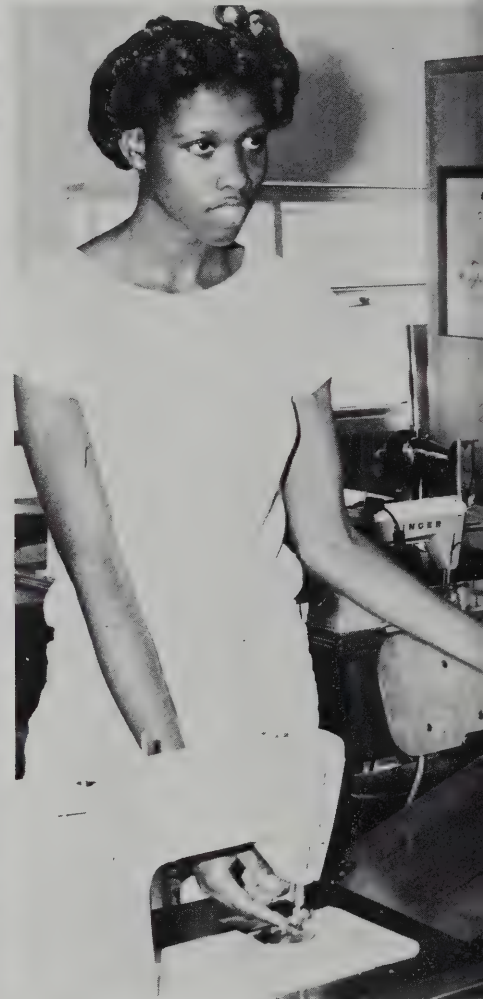

The final countdown. Orchestra teacher, Thomas Shaw, directs the orchestra as the horns on top of the music cabinet appear to be "snailing" along.

Musical fun. Travis Hartfield, Karen May and Rodney Carter find amusement in their song as Brent Page accompanies them on the piano.

A funny rehearsal. Leslie Bell, Ernest Tindell, Amanda Massenburg and Diedre Young laugh openly as they rehearse their lines.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

Bordering on the fancy. Home Economics teacher, Mrs. Betty Moon, straightens the letters on the bulletin board proclaiming "Vocational Education Week."

Ready to shoot. Aleta Fonville and Home Economics instructor, Mrs. Betty Moon, prepare the camera to shoot pictures during their Home Economics special project.

Home Economics

The overall goal of Vocational Education is to provide a program of learning experiences designed to equip students to fulfill effectively the role of responsibility in the home, community, and society.

It is also the mission of Vocational Education to provide educational opportunities for students preparing for careers in various vocational areas.

Students are encouraged to acquire knowledge and skills in oral communication as well as written communication and human relations.

Regular and punctual attendance is mandatory.

In perfect harmony. Jackie Wood and Eleanor Archer demonstrate the proper way to set up the sewing machine.

A singer's touch. Eleanor Archer appears to be humming as she readies her sewing machine for her garment.

Tuck and pin. Home Ec. Teacher Mrs. Jackie Tunstall demonstrates the correct way to prepare a pattern as her relaxed class watches intently.

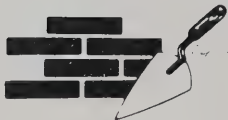

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

With a gloved grip. Douglas Yancy holds steady the metal rod as Robert Stokes prepares to cut it.

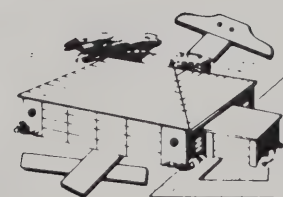

Three hands are better than one. Scot Scot, John Clark and Forrest Jiggetts steady a piece of wood as they align the pieces of their wood shop project.

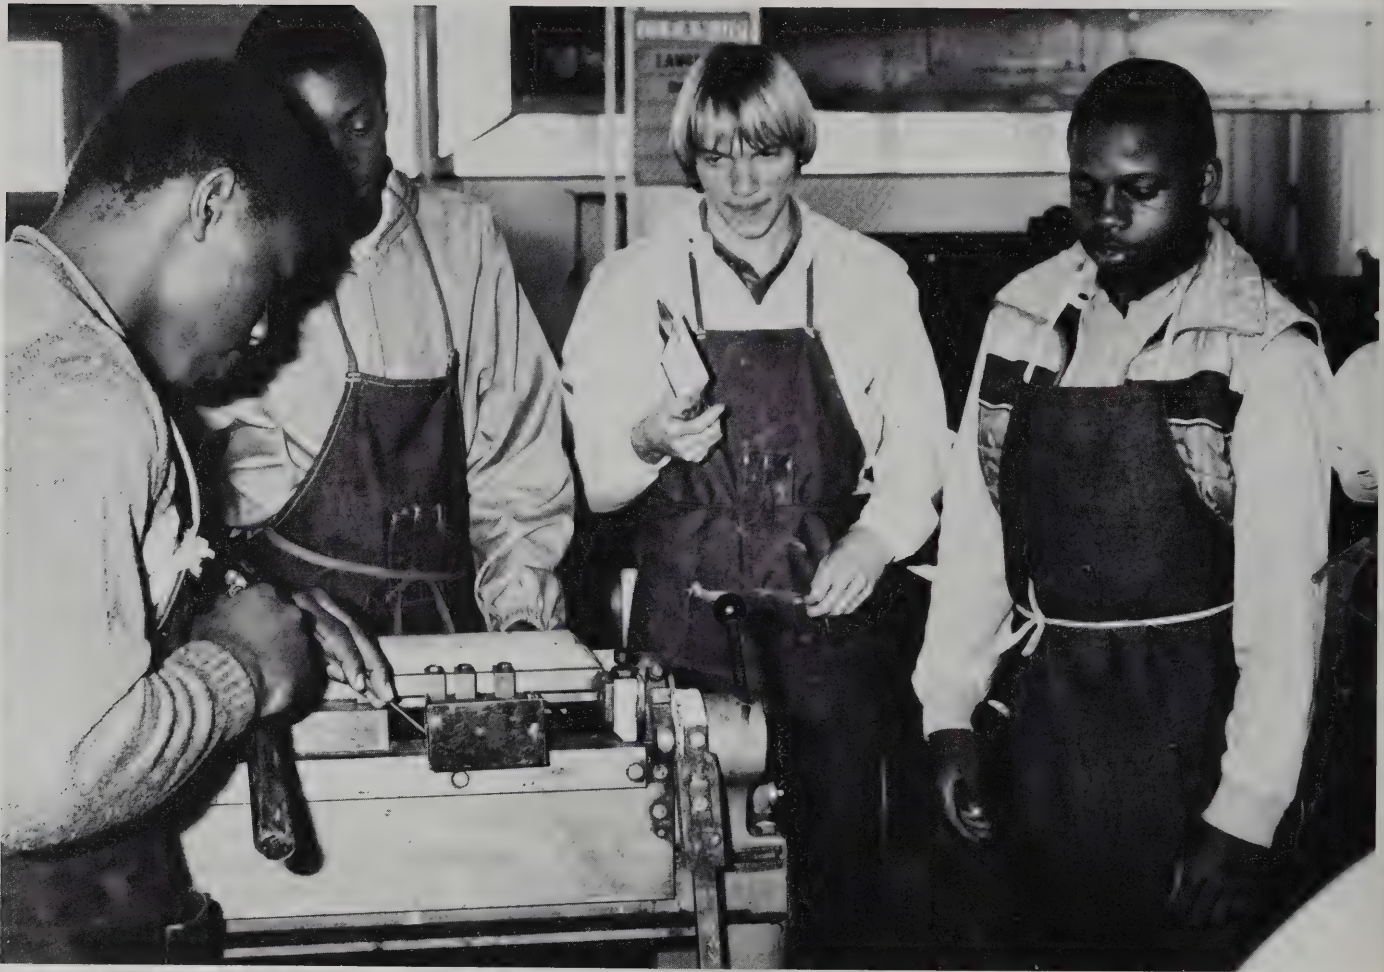

With precise measurements, wood shop students Tim Williams and John Clark complete their class project.

All rung out! Calvin Morton strengthens the rungs on a colonial chair in his woodshop class.

On the job, Chris Robinson, William Washington and Nathaniel Hawkins make ready a showcase for Vocational Education Week.

Vocational Education Week

Vocational Education Week was recognized at Marshall-Walker during the week of February 11-15. Activities carried out by the Vocational Education, Department included a field trip to BEST Products, gifts of sweet treats to the faculty and an assembly with three guest speakers.

Teaching to learn, learning to teach. Student teacher, Ms. Karen Parkinson, grades papers while master teacher, Ms. Sarah Hunter, makes job contacts for her Distributive Education students.

A smiling display. Wood shop teacher, Mr. Edward Fitchett, displays a broad grin as his students put the finishing touches on the Industrial Arts display case during Vocational Education Week.

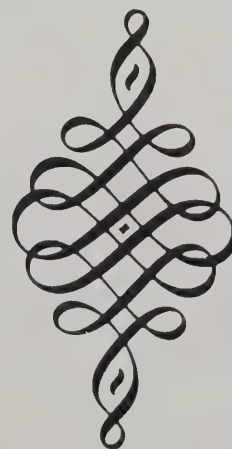

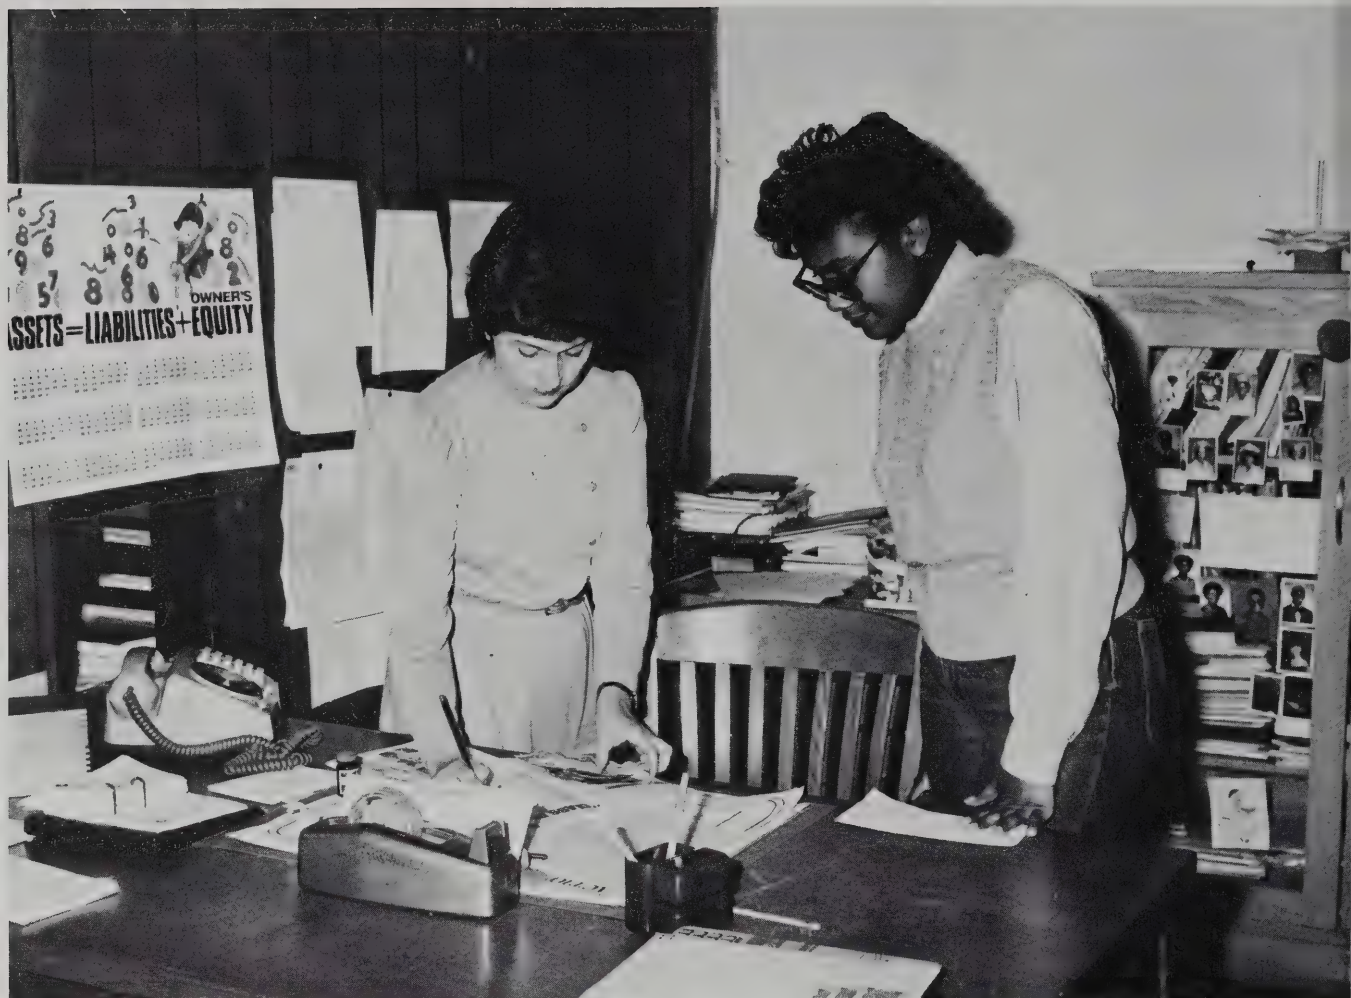

Getting the message across. Michael Carter, Norman Brooks, Tracie Dickerson, and coordinator, Mr. Ewing, put the finishing touches on a bulletin board.

A clubs display. Bernadine Ogburn and Darryl Fitzgerald decorate a display case in the main hallway proclaiming "Vocational Education Week."

Business

Heads in. Regina Hendricks awaits instructions from Mrs. D. Smith, business instructor.

Smiles for business. Bridget Morris, and Marlo Armstead are working on a Scriptset software package in Word Processing class assisted by Mrs. O Smith, instructor.

Fingers Ready. Raquel Arrington is working on a Word Processor in an Office Tech I class.

Heartfelt sentiments. Carol Holloway smiles demurely as she poses for the cameraman in the Home Economics Valentine Picture Booth.

Word processing. Kelly Ganoglio, Ernestine January, Donna Cosner, Velma Suggs, Marlo Armstead, Bridget Morris are working on Transcription skills in Word Processing class.

Tech Students Move On

Almost all good jobs today require specialized training beyond high school. It's not how many years of education a person has, it's what type. He should find out what type of education is needed in order to qualify for the career that he desires. Career planning takes thought and enough information to make a sound decision. The time and trouble that a student takes in planning his career will pay off time and time again. The Richmond Technical Center is one of the answers.

With skilled hands, Robert Wilson works.

Gun in hand, Timothy Taylor is ready for work.

On the job, Rodney Carter attacks his work with a smile.

Pulse, please. Chonetta Hill, nursing assistant student, is on the job.

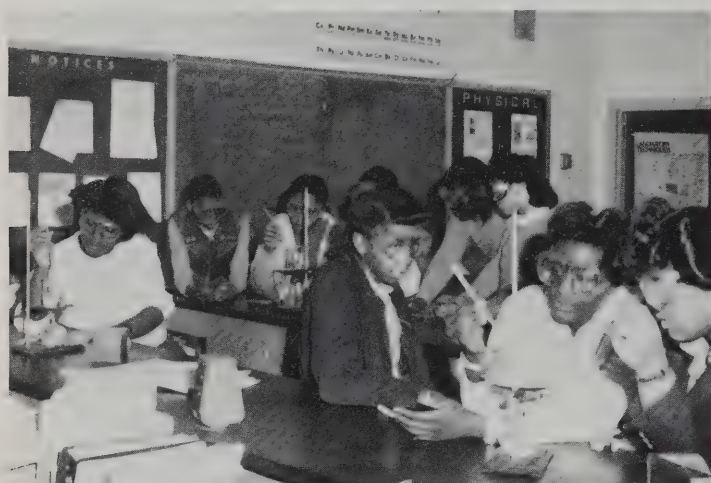

Head in hand, Carol Williams styles.

Students shown above learn how to "hable espanol" and to "parlez vous" in the classes of Mrs. Roberts and Mr. Gaines.

While some classes concentrate on the anatomy of the human body and the elements found within the body, other classes use square dancing to demonstrate how to keep that body moving.

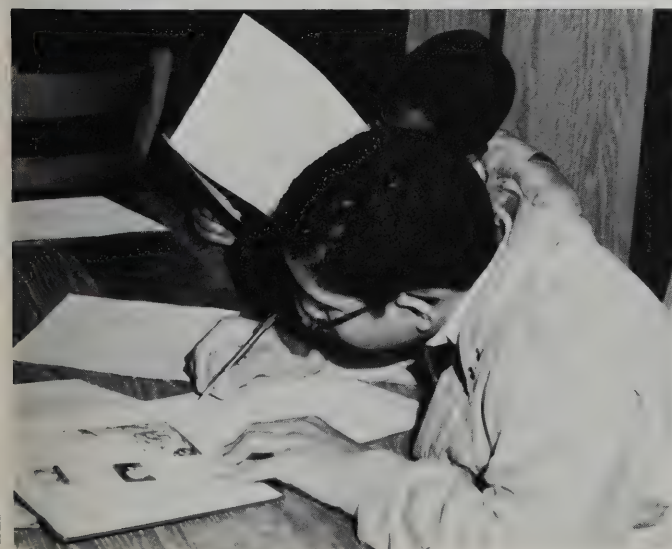

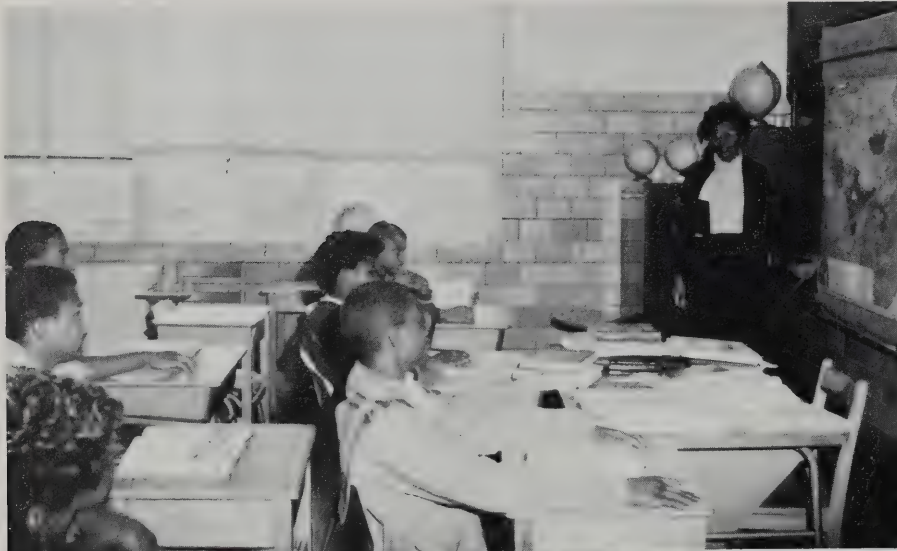

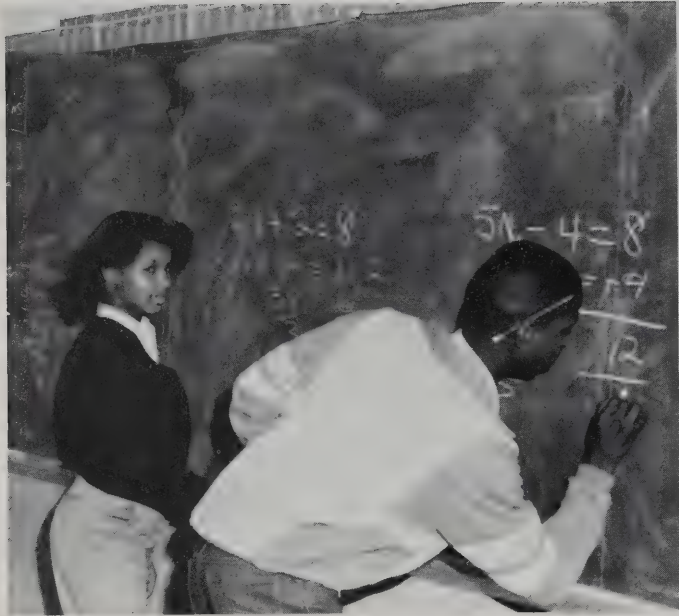

In the Walker Building . . .

Students in the Walker building use the Media Center to complete projects and to keep up with the news. For these students, digging for the facts seems to be quite enjoyable.

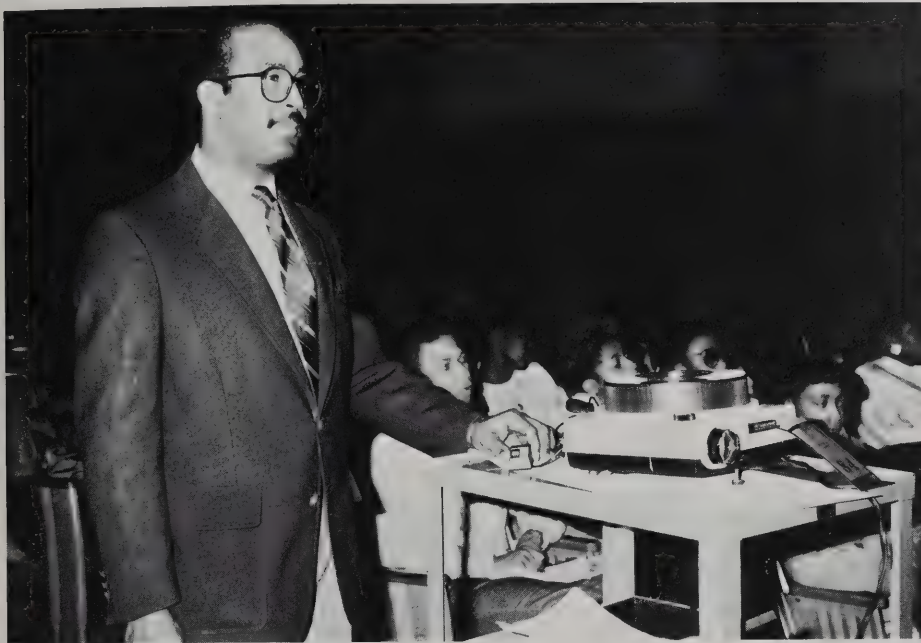

Students in Mrs. Anita Bowen's Home Economics classes learn how to manage a house properly. House work becomes a breeze when you know the short-cuts.

In the mathematics classes, students are taught that "having good math skills is like having money in the bank." History classes devote time to study where we are in the world. Students learn that there is a need for good communications skills in the English class and in the computer lab.

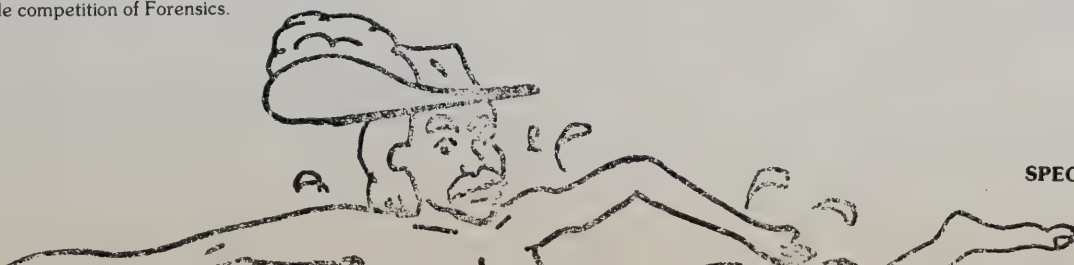

Slide show. Mr. George Smith, a Boy Scout executive, conducts a career seminar for perspective D.E. students.

Helping hands. Tashell Stith, a Walker eighth grader, is shown being coached by Mrs. Bertha Campbell. Tashell was the building winner in the original oratory competition, and second place winner in the citywide competition of Forensics.

Coach Anderson, The Man On the Move

A coach's success and/or failure is normally based on his won-lost record. But, we have in our football coach a man whose success should be based not only on his record, but the men that he has given back to our community as well as the world.

Just to name a few —

1971 Anthony Leonard Virginia Union S. F. 49'ers

1976 Walter Carter Florida State Tampa Bay

1976 Arthur Cook Morgan State Buffaloe Bills

1979 Jeffrey Gunn Norfolk State Seattle Seahawks

Coach Anderson has touched the lives of not only these successful athletes, but many others who have succeeded in various other fields. As you can see, the won-lost record is not as important as the quality of men Coach Louis "Lou" Anderson produces.

Thank you Coach Anderson, for you are SOLID, SOLID, SOLID, SOLID, SOLID, SOLID AS A ROCK!!!

FOOTBALL

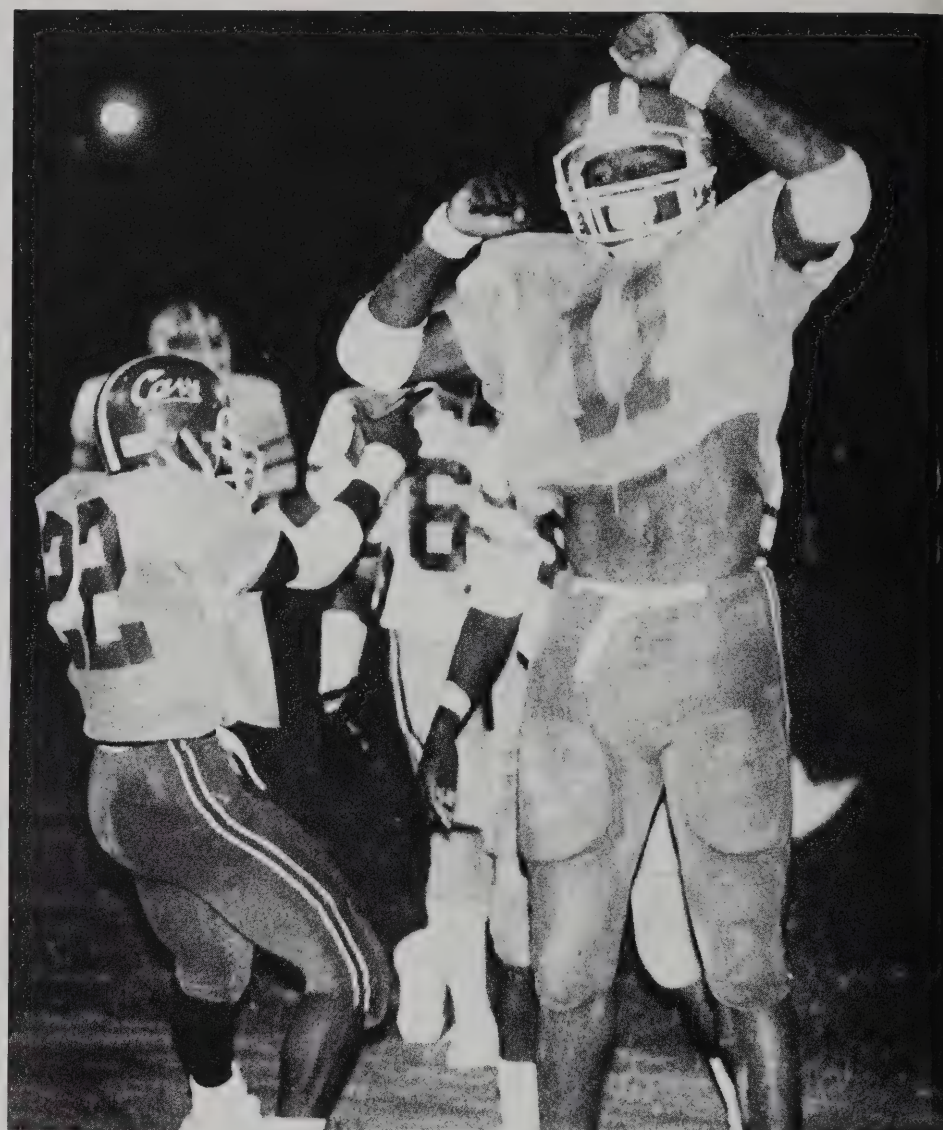

Members of the Cavalier Football Team received their letters July 23, 1984, telling all football players to report to summer practice. As one player looked at the thermometer, he noticed that it registered ninety-five degrees. However, with determination and loyalty, the players met their coaches on the practice field. Practices during the summer were extremely tough as the fellows conditioned themselves for their first game. The players went through all sorts of "agilities" and drills.

After a couple of scrimmages which helped to mold the team, the Cavaliers faced the Henrico Warriors in the Fourth Annual Northside Bowl. The Cavaliers won 13-7 ready to face their next opponents from Prince George. In this contest, the offense got into gear and produced 26 points as the defense prevailed with its first shutout.

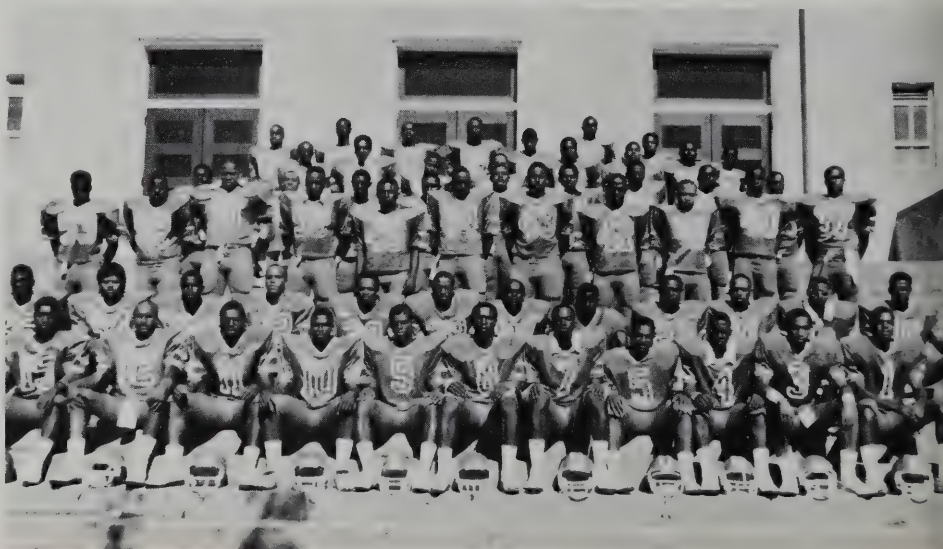

Patrick was next in line. The offense once again produced by putting 28 points on the board. The defense played a good game but were hampered by a few flaws.

The Monacan Chiefs were next on schedule. This game turned out to be a battle to the finish. However, the Cavaliers came out victorious, 14-7.

Victorious Cry! After touchdown pass to Marshall-Walker, #11 Myron Richardson scores against Henrico as #22 William "Billy" Johnson celebrates.

Pass ready. Cavaliers' Keith Thornton connected with Myron "Rod" Richardson on a nine-yard scoring pass six seconds before halftime.

Quarterbacks break: Pierce Callaham, Jr. # 5, Ray Copeland #3, and Keith Thornton #1.

As the Cavaliers met the Springers, (Highland Springs), both teams were undefeated. This game really tested the Cavalier stamina. Marshall-Walker pulled out a surprise comeback victory. The Cavalier record was now 5-0, and people were finally noticing the fighting Cavaliers.

8-2 Season Record

The Blue Devils from Hopewell marched into our back yard (Hovey Field) looking for a victory, but the results of their tries were unrewarding. The Cavaliers prevailed once again.

The Cavaliers then traveled to the home of the Petersburg Waves. The coach there found a weakness in the Cavalier Special Team and used it to their advantage. This was the first minor setback for the M-W guest for a perfect season.

After an embarrassing defeat (45-6) against Petersburg, the Cavaliers had to face cross town rival JHW. This was M-W homecoming. This game turned out to be a defensive struggle to the last second. With sixteen seconds left to play, Coach Anderson went into his "bag of tricks" to find a "razzle dazzle" play which was instrumental in the team's scoring the decisive touchdown.

On to the home of the Dinwiddie Generals, the Cavaliers were in for a rude awakening. The Generals used a five-year-old trick and good defense to defeat M-W. This was the second and final loss of the regular season for the Cavaliers.

Marshall-Walker faced Armstrong-Kennedy at Hovey Field. The Cavaliers downed the Jaguars 7-0. This was the final game of the regular season.

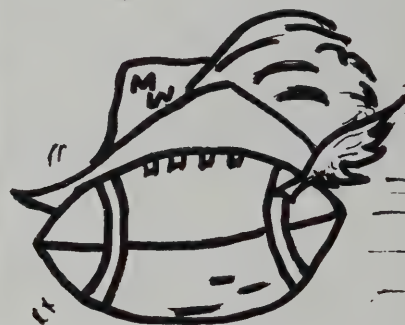

On to the playoffs where the Cavaliers once again met the Springers on their turf. This was a hard fought game as the tied score moved the game into overtime. The score remained tied in "sudden death" overtime. There had to be a winner. We went into double overtime. Marshall-Walker came out victorious with the final score: 16-13.

The Cavaliers marched on to the Central Regional Championship against the Hermitage Panthers. The Panthers won the game on two big plays. The Cavaliers finished the season with a 9-3-0 record.

"I've got it!" Myron Richardson catches pass during competition with Petersburg.

The Green Machine. Marshall-Walker's Green Machine is about to put the ball in the end zone.

Looking for a hole, Eric Hopkins #19 tries to advance down the field.

Handoff from quarterback. CAVS #43 Aaron Evans takes handoff from quarterback Keith Thornton and heads up the middle.

"Get to that football, Cavaliers!" #70 Clements rounds off.

Junior Varsity Football

Coach Brayboy spoke very well of his Junior Varsity Football Team of 1984. This group of young players worked hard to develop a sense of team concept. They were able to learn early that the defensive team, offensive team and every other special team is very important in developing the team.

The Junior Varsity staff did an outstanding job developing these young players. Assisting Coach Brayboy were Coaches Liggans, Jenkins, Lewis, and Pagett.

The junior varsity players worked in preparation for the varsity program, each player put forth the necessary effort to gain a position on the varsity squad.

Eyes on the score, Wilson Friend is running for a Cavalier first down.

11-1 District Record for Lady Cavalier

The Lady Cavaliers' Basketball Team ended the season with a district record of 11-1, and an overall season record of 15-5.

Finishing the season as Central District Champions, the Lady Cavaliers entered the Central District Tournament where they finished as runners up.

Coach Pinney commented that the 1984-85 season was a successful one and that she expects even greater things from her team next year. Coach Pinney looks forward to returning next year and coaching a State Championship team. Having observed the underclassmen on the varsity squad and the ladies on the junior varsity squad, Coach Pinney is confident of coaching another winning team.

Double Bubble. The reflected image of the basketball makes it look as if there's a ball for each girl.

Huddled in. Coach Pinney is surrounded by the team as she gives some last minute advice.

Up and over. Action seems to come to a standstill while the ball "decides" where it will land.

"Scared of that." This seems to be the sentiment felt by this Petersburg player as Angie Martin follows through with her dribble.

Jumping for joy. As another two points are scored, Lady Cavaliers are elated.

Pre-game off the court talk is a vital part of the strategy used by Junior Varsity Coach Alan Coles.

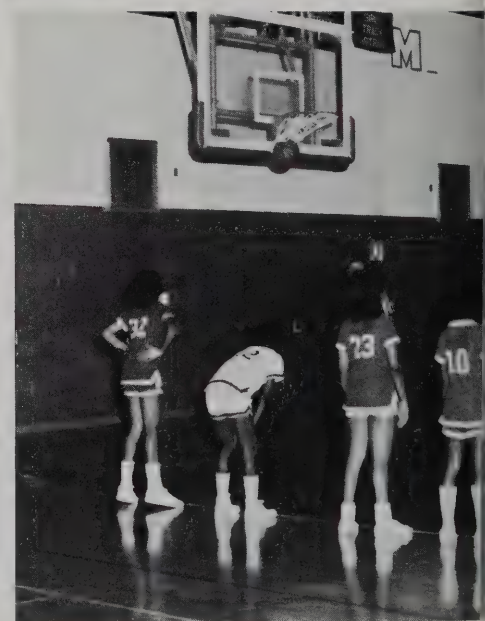

As coach of the Junior Varsity Ladies' Squad, Coach Coles felt that effort and dedication played leading roles in the J.V. 8-6 district record.

The J.V. Ladies worked together as a team, displaying good sportsmanship. They cooperated with Coach Cole and showed that they were true Cavaliers as they ended a successful season.

Time out. Coach Coles has a talk with the girls during a "time out."

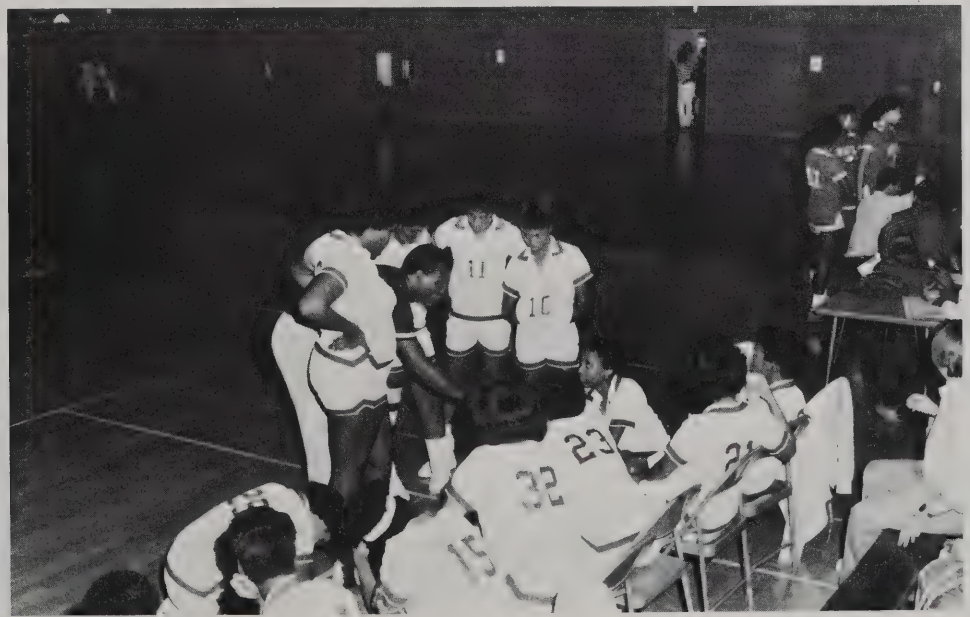

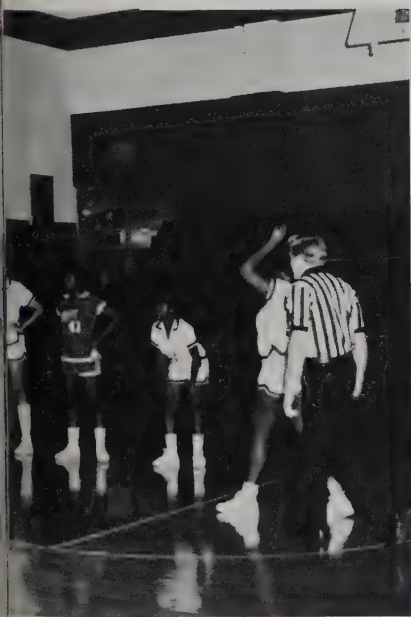

Rebounding silence. The Lady Cavaliers wait patiently to see the outcome of this play.

Woosh! Sharon Dickerson #31, shoots a magnificent free throw as the ball snags the strings.

Heeding advice. The girls go back to the game as Coach Coles finishes his "pep" talk.

Cooling off. The Lady Cavaliers listen attentively while Coach Coles gives cooling advice.

Although the Varsity Basketball Team did not have a record-breaking season, their good sportsmanship prevailed throughout the year.

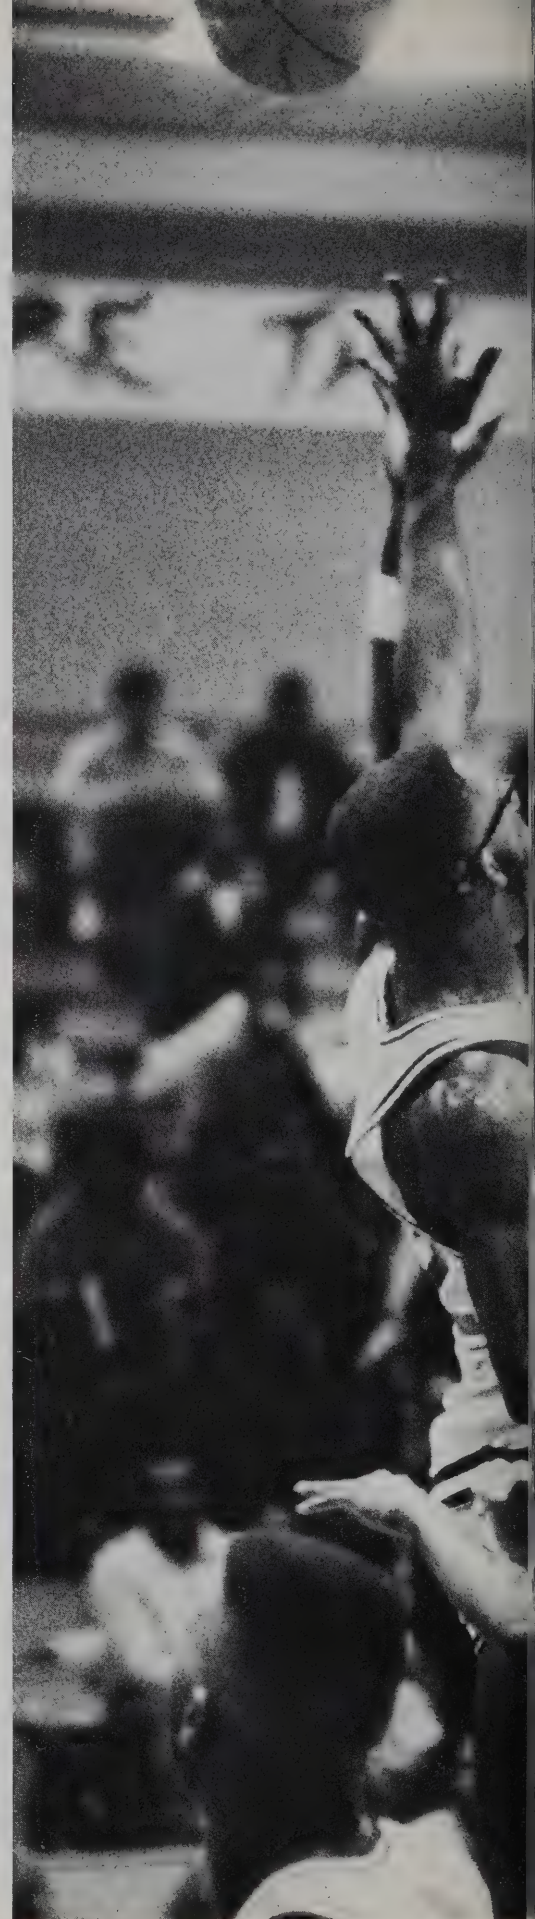

With only 4 members of the varsity basketball squad returning from last year, the possibility of a successful season on the court seemed far-fetched. As the season progressed, this proved true. A lack of team effort added to the problem as the Cavaliers lost their first 4 games in the Central District.

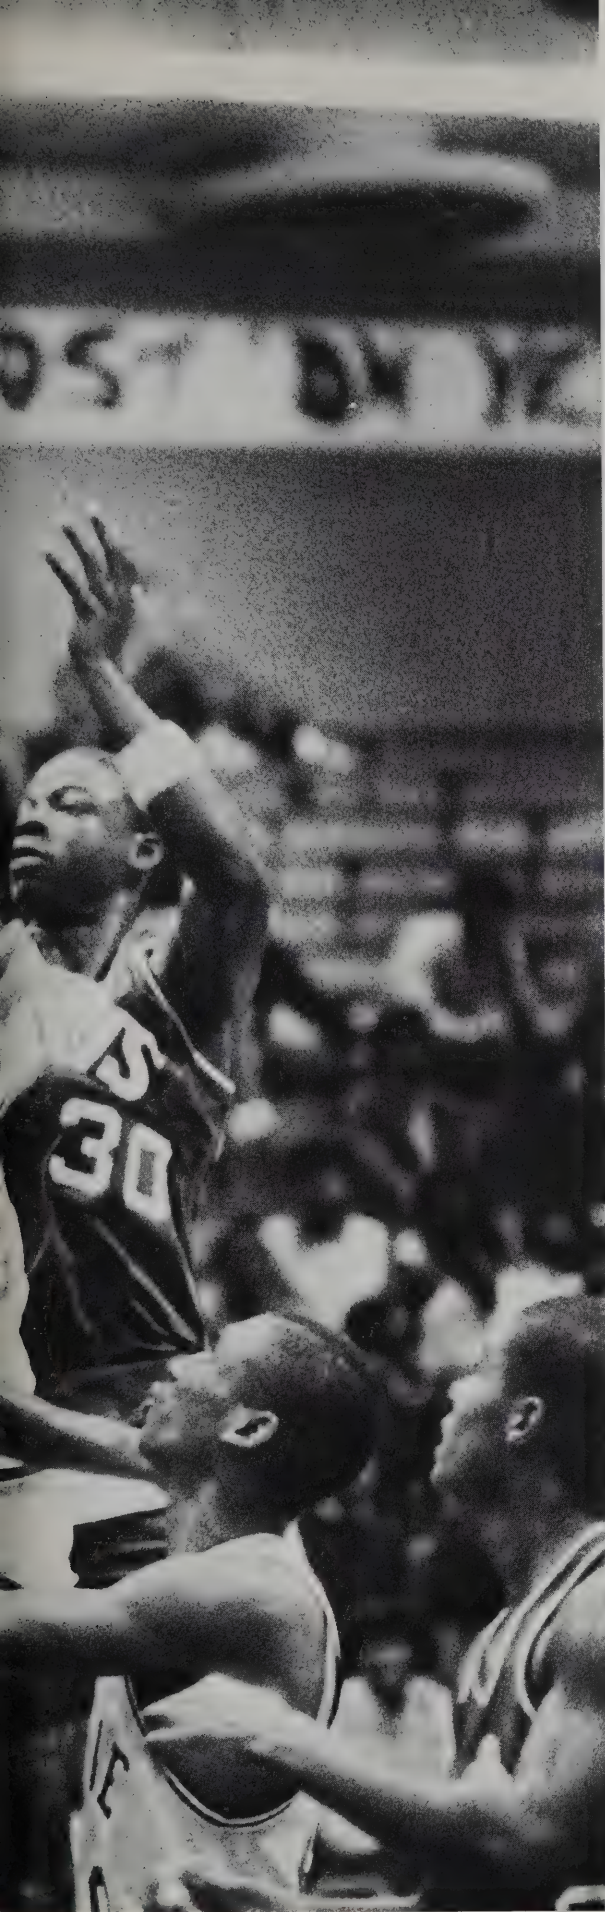

Another one of the team's problems was inconsistency. The Cavaliers seemingly could not get it together most of the time until the second half. Usually, this was too late.

Hopefully, with the growth of these players and talented players from the J.V. squad, the Varsity Squad will once again be traveling Route 64 — West to Harrisonburg

CAVALIERS BASKETBALL TEAM: William Morris, Patrice Callaham (trainer), Coach Callaham, Michael Rollins (#3), Robert Highsmith (#5), Jeffrey Hudson (#4), Jack Sharpe (23), Stacy Cunningham

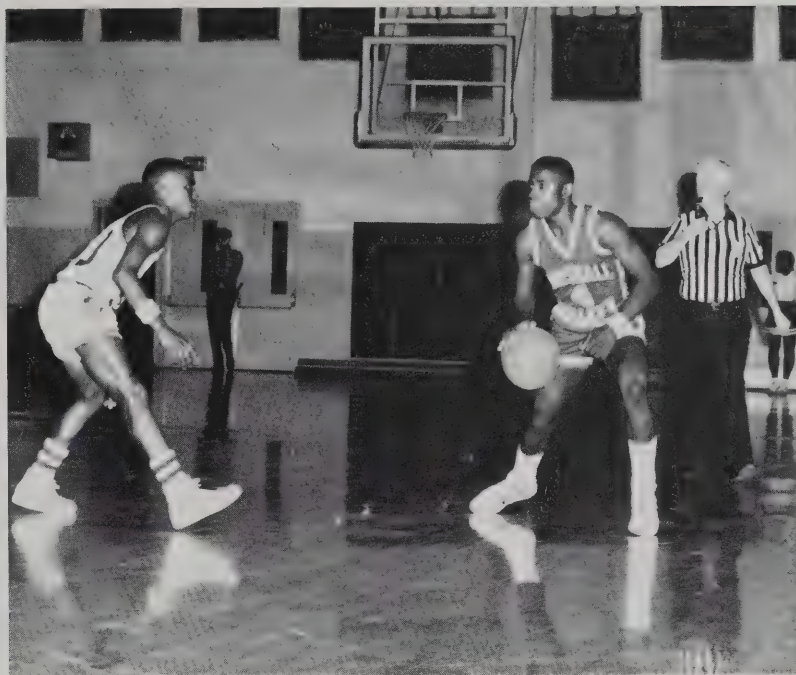

(#20), Leslie Rogers (#22), Michael Turner (#33), Darryl Alexander (#10), Pierce Callaham (#15), Mario Thornton, Coach Threatts, Allan Coles, Raymond Copeland (#12), and Donnel Parkes (#30)

Shooting a jumper. Donnell Parkes leaps high to shoot the ball while Petersburg attempts to block the shot.

Skirting the issue. The referee moves in on the action as John Alexander, #4, attempts to move the ball inside Henrico's defense.

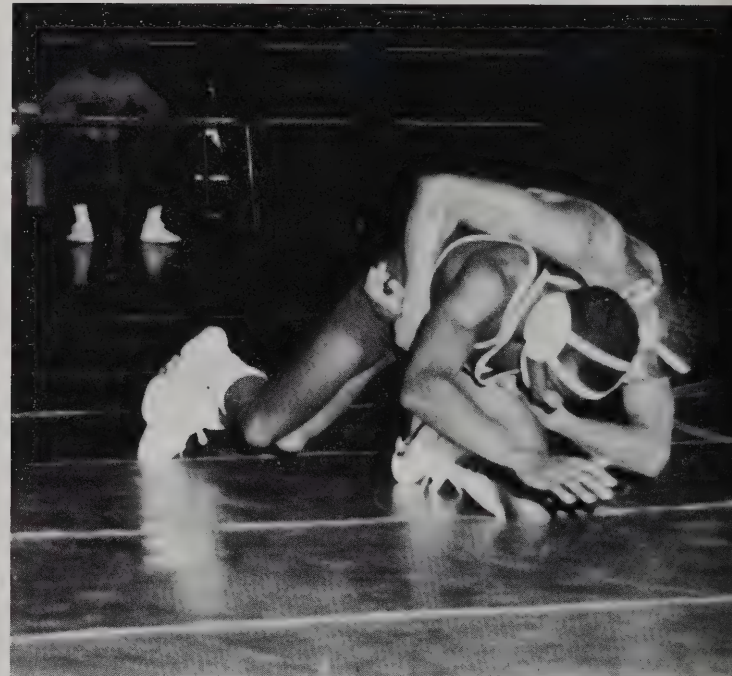

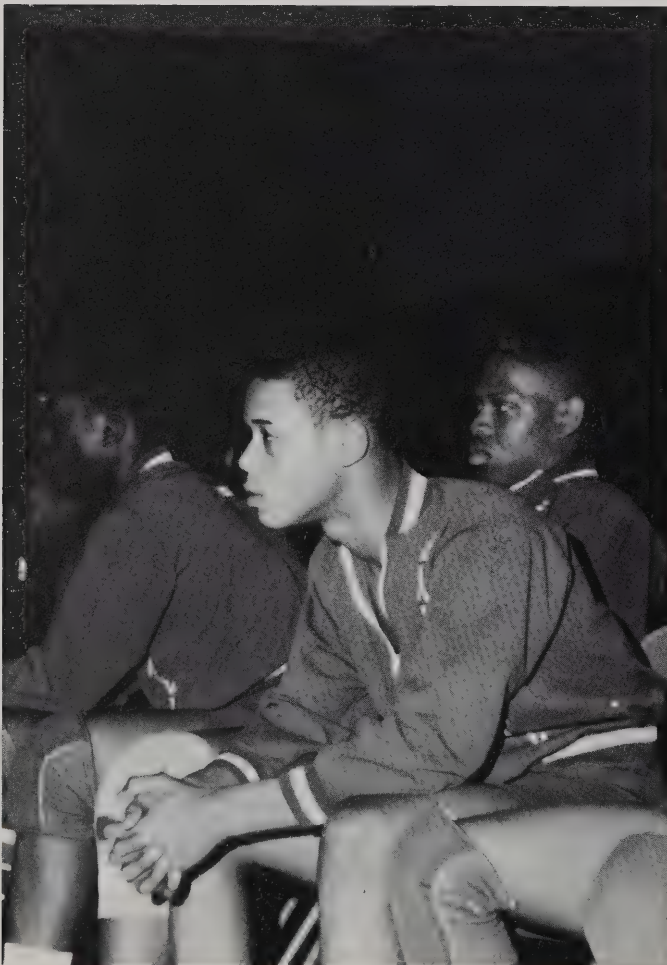

Point your toes. Donnell Parkes, #30, shoots over the heads of Henrico's defense, sporting perfect form.

WRESTLING

Wrestling is a form of sport in which the opponents struggle hand to hand, attempting to throw or to force each other to the ground without striking blows. Under the direction and guidance of Coach Wayne Ellis, the Marshall/Walker wrestling team gave meaning to this definition. Wrapping up their season with a record of 6-9-1, the Cavalier wrestlers were 4th in the district tournament and 6th in the region. "We had a mixture of veterans and rookies this year," said Coach Ellis. "They came on strong at the end of the season and sent 5 to the state tournament, the most ever from Marshall-Walker."

Hold that move! Aaron Quarles appears to be holding his opponent in midair as he attempts to pin him.

Looks can sometimes be deceiving. Willie Owens appears to be gently caressing his opponent as the referee slides in close to call the pin.

Boxing or Wrestling? Willie Owens keeps his eyes on his opponents fist as he tries to floor him.

Head first! Molding his body into an inverted V, Willie Owens mounts his opponent as his head smacks into the floor.

Back Packing. Aaron Quarles appears to be piggy back riding as he straddles his opponent for a pin.

Cross Country

The Cross Country team did not have a very good season in 1984. Some of the athletes, however, stood out as very fine cross country persons.

Paul Holland was all district and gained notariety as one of the areas finest 5,000 meter runners. The team was composed of some underclassmen, and therefore should do better in the future.

Two down, four to go! Cross country runner Steve Allen appears to be counting laps as he runs through his paces.

A woodsy run. Anton Smith heads toward the 1 mile mark as he fast paces through the woods.

Over at last! Eric Collins approaches the finish line as he completes his run.

Catch me if you can! Seems to be what this Monocan runner is mimicking as Ricky Wilmer attempts to overtake him.

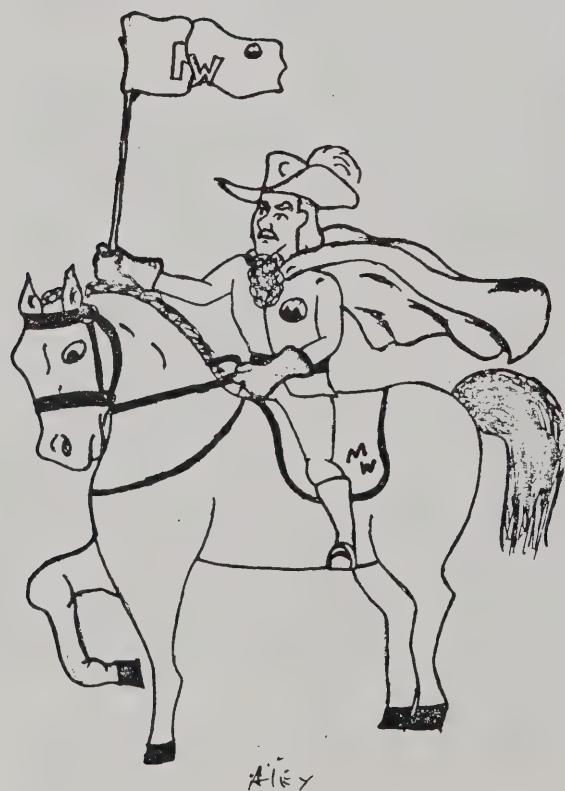

Follow the leader — Cavalier runners Eric Collins and Ricky Wilmer try to pass two of the Monocan's runners as they lead the way.

The last mile of the way. Paul Holland gingerly takes the last step over the finish line as the coaches and family members look on.

This program grew out of a class project which had required the students to perform research of Mrs. Walker. Most of the students uncovered so much information that they wished to share it with the student body.

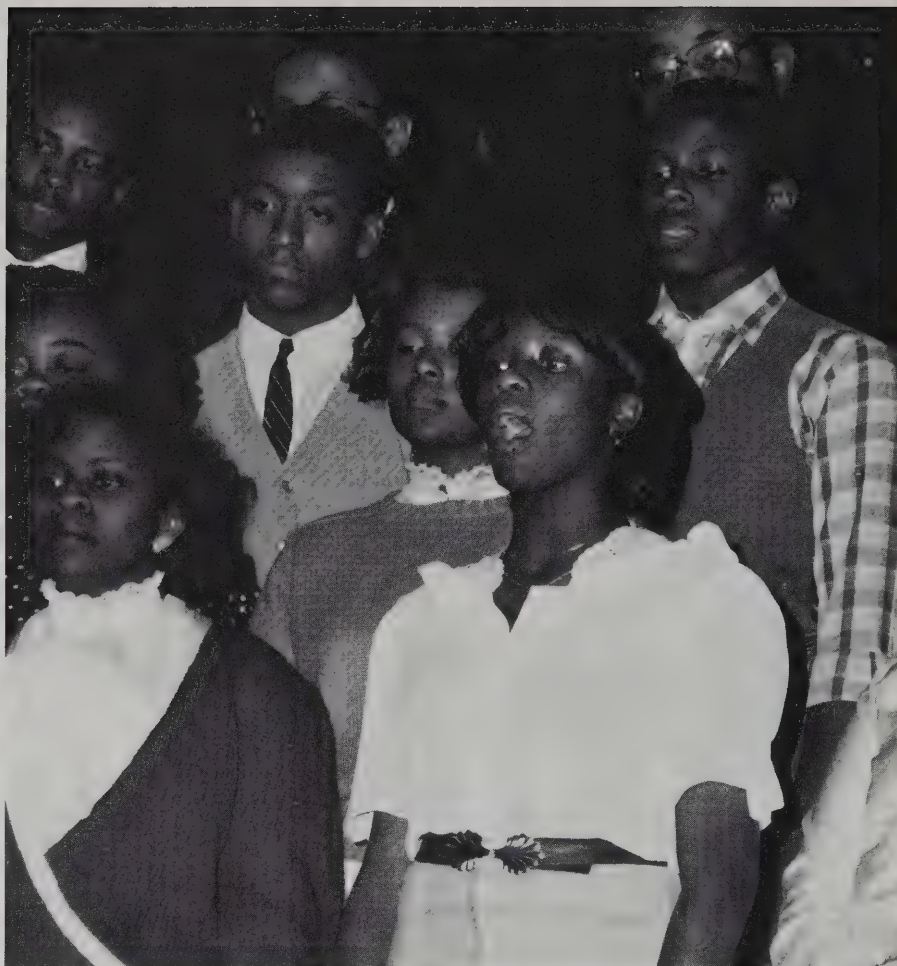

DOROTHY RICE

"Miss Maggie" is a biography of Maggie Walker which is written especially for young people. Mrs. Rice, co-author of the book, is a teacher in the Richmond Public Schools.

In the Walker building, the ninth grade students in Honors English planned and presented a program to honor the memory of Maggie L. Walker, for whom the school is named. The audience was taken on a sentimental journey back to the era when Mrs. Walker was most prominent in this city. There were slides depicting the Richmond as Maggie Walker knew it and the Richmond of today. Dorothy Rice, one of the co-authors of the book Miss Maggie was on hand to tell the students how she and her cousin were inspired to pen the biography. Members of the Marshall-Walker corale sang renditions of Duke Ellington's music which was popular during Mrs. Walker's day. Several students demonstrated the dances which were "in" during the 1930's. Several organizations with which Maggie Walker had worked sent memorabilia for the student body to enjoy: a bust and portrait from the Order of Saint Luke and a commemorative plate from the Consolidated Bank.

Senior Installation

The official installation of the senior officers of the Class of 1985 was held for the seniors in the Marshall building auditorium during the month of October.

Before the processional, the seniors appeared a bit tense; however, after the invocation by Leanne Graves, elected chaplain, the tension eased.

After an inspiring song from the Marshall-Walker choir, directed by Mrs. Marie Shelton, the guest speaker, the Reverend John Johnson, gave an inspiring message using as a theme "Self Confidence." He stressed the philosophy that if one believes in himself, one could and would achieve.

Reverend Johnson cited several well-known public figures who had achieved success through hard work and self confidence.

Taking the oath. Nadine Rozier, Zenia Williams and Karen Williams take the oath for the offices of class parliamentarian, secretary and president, respectively.

Bringing back memories. School principals, Dr. Ir. Iris Metts and Mr. Roger LaCourse, appear to be reminiscing as the guest speaker, the Reverend John Johnson, brings a message to the senior class.

Say Ah! Though they look as though they are yawning on cue, the choir rendered musical selections at the installation ceremony.

Snapping to it. Nadine Rozier, elected parliamentarian, appears to be snapping her fingers as she is being installed.

On a serious note. Angela Christian, Julie Browne, and Leanne Graves stand attentively as they are being installed.

I do! Karen Williams, elected class president, gives her thank-you speech.

Making a point. The Reverend John Johnson gestures with his hand to make a point during his inspiring speech.

With pride, Thomas Smalls escorts Kim Harris during homecoming activities at halftime.

Cavalier Queens. Tela Hansom, Miss Cavalier 1983, and Karen Williams, Miss Cavalier, 1984 stand proudly.

MISS CAVALIER ACTIVITIES

"The Wish of a Star" was the theme for the 1984 Miss Cavalier Pageant, which was held in the Marshall Auditorium on October 24, 1984.

Masters of Ceremonies for this occasion were Mr. Howard Hopkins, Athletics Director, and Mr. John Thompson, Social Studies Instructor.

The Stage Band under the direction of Mr. Tuscan Jasper entertained the waiting audience while the contestants were preparing themselves.

The program was divided into three segments. They included Part I — "The Future of a Star"; Part — II — "Presentation of the Stars"; and Part III — "The Wish of a Star."

As a special tribute to the contestants Leslie Hall and Mr. Archie Henderson sang "Hold Me" by Teddy Pendergrass, and "She Makes Me The Best I Can Be" by James Ingram.

Each young lady was introduced wearing typical school attire. Each contestant displayed her talent and finally each young lady strolled down the center aisle of the auditorium wearing her beautiful evening gown.

The master of ceremonies asked each girl an impromptu question and she was then escorted from the stage by one of Marshall-Walker's Cadets.

A Capricorn lady, Renee Smith dances to "Sassy" by Leon L. Pendarvis, Jr.

A Sagitarius lady, Karen Williams dances with her baton to "I Feel For You" by Chaka Khan.

A Capricorn lady, Jessica Owens does her interpretation of "Mother to Son" by Langston Hughes.

A Gemini lady, Patricia Hatch plays a piano selection "Lady Byrd" by Tad Dameron.

A Pisces lady, Aleta Fonville sings "I Needed You" by Ann Murray.

Exceptional Education

A study in Black History. Itinerant aide Mrs. V. Arthur helps students Chris Folley and Robert Evans as they prepare reports for Black History Month.

A worldly encounter. Mrs. Constance Showalter, teacher of exceptional education, takes a break from paper grading to discuss world news.

Where you lead, I Will Follow. Septavia Jones and Tammy Coates follow along as Mrs. Joan Atkins reads with them.

Mums the word. Mrs. Geraldine Seay presses her lips in silence as her students complete their assignment.

Moving Hands

Opposite pg, upper left. Computing hands. Felicia Macklin and April Jackson deftly operate the Plato computer as they attempt to complete their C.A. objectives.

Upper Rt. Decorating hands. Walter Miller decorates a Christmas tree for the front office.

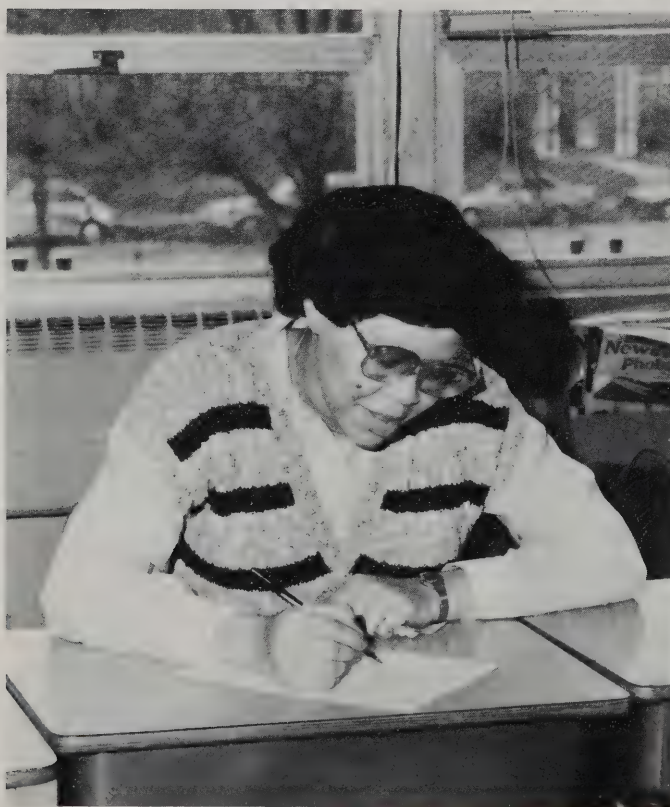

Lower Left. We did Achieve! Mr. Carlton Stevens Vice Principal, and Ms. Darlene Nunnary, Assistant Athletic director, proudly display some of the many Cavalier trophies.

Lower Right. Up Against the Wall. Marlo Armstead and Aaron Quarles find that walls do more than just support ceilings.

This pg, Top Left. Yeah team! Majorettes, band members, group sponsors and other spirited Cavaliers cheer their team on to victory.

Bottom Left. As the World Turns. Carol Dennis completes a literary assignment as the world passes by outside.

Moving Feet

Shoulder to shoulder. Two Monocan Chiefs attempt to get the ball from Cavalier, Anthony Spence, who holds the ball tenaciously as he grimaces and refuses to go down.

Running in place. A ninth grade gym class keeps aerobically fit by running in place.

Hup 2, 3, 4! JROTC STUDENTS Tia Petty and Pam Gardner smile while back row cadets, Robert Stokes, Cindy Jefferson, Anthony Payne, Eric Collins and Kelvin Preston practice marching a bit more seriously.

Keeping their feet high. Marshall Walker cheerleaders Ychelle Spratley, Renee Smith, Cor etha Smith and Shionda Jones step high as they do their cheer.

One step at A time. Margaret Wright steps lightly as she tiptoes down the staircase.

Close up! Elliott Woody stops his wheels as he takes a close look at the camera equipment being prepared to shoot.

Time to go! As the last bell sounds, students leave classes to head for home, jobs, or after-school activities.

Still Moving

Concentration is the key. Dwayne "Sway" Smithers concentrates on his combination as he attempts to open his locker.

As we look back on the 1984-85 school year, there are places, persons, and events in the news that we would like to remember. For instance —

- Lionel Ritchie was emcee for the Grammy Awards.
- Ronald Reagan was re-elected President of the United States.
- Tina Turner made a comeback.
- Billions of persons starved in Ethiopia.
- The Michael Jackson Tour was a success.
- Vanessa Williams lost her title as Miss America.
- The San Francisco 49'ers won the Super Bowl.
- Jessie Jackson was a candidate for President of the United States.

- Detroit Tigers won the World Series.
- Linwood Briley was electrocuted.
- Richmond Public Schools elected a new superintendent -Dr. Lois Harrison-Jones.
- The new Marriott Hotel was completed.
- Richmond had the highest crime rate among cities with a 100,000 population.
